Worst is yet to come, warns IMF

Downgrades outlook for world economy, cuts India's growth forecast to 6.8% in 2022

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE International Monetary Fund (IMF) on Tuesday slashed its growth forecast for India as it painted a gloomy picture for the world economy, citing high inflation, worsening Russia-Ukraine conflict and the lingering Covid disruptions.

According to IMF's latest World Economic Outlook, India is likely to grow at 6.8% in 2022-23 instead of 7.4% estimated in July. The 60 basis points downgrade is blamed on a weaker-than-expected second quarter and subdued external demand in the coming months. The multilateral agency has, however, kept India's 2023-24 growth rate unchanged at 6.1%.

Among other emerging economies, Saudi Arabia is estimated to grow at 7.6%, Bangladesh at 7.2% and Vietnam at 7%.

While India remains one of the fastest growing large economies, despite the IMF's sharp downgrade in growth projections, more than a third of the global economy is set to contract this year or the next. And, the three largest economies—the US, the European Union, and China—will continue to stall. "In short, the worst is yet to come, and for many people 2023 will feel like a recession," the IMF warned.

The IMF has cut the global growth forecast by almost half to 3.2% in 2022 from its earlier estimate of 6%. According to the agency, this is the weakest growth profile since 2001 except for the global financial crisis and the acute phase of the Covid pandemic.

"The cost-of-living crisis, tightening financial conditions in most regions, Russia's invasion of Ukraine, and the lingering Covid-19 pandemic all weigh heavily on the outlook," said the IMF in its report.

It forecasts global retail inflation at 8.8% in 2022, 6.5% in 2023 and 4.1% in 2024. India's retail inflation is likely to remain at 6.9% in 2022-23 before dropping to 5.1% in 2023-24.

Last week, the World Bank had cut India's GDP growth estimate from 7.5% to 6.5%, saying growth will slow down in the fiscal year ending March 2023, as the country is coming off a strong recovery in FY2022. It also cited the spillovers from the Russia-Ukraine war and global monetary policy tightening weighing on India's economic outlook.

The Reserve Bank of India, however, is more optimistic of India's growth potential as it sees the country growing at 7% in FY23, only downgrading the growth rate by 20 basis points.

CM, BSY launch BJP yatra, tear into Congress

RAMAKRISHNA BADESHI @ Raichur

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai and veteran BJP leader BS Yediyurappa kick-started the party's 'Jana Sankalpa Yatra' by launching a scathing attack on the Congress and presenting the state government's report card to the public. The yatra will continue till December 2022 to set the tone for the party's campaign for 2023 assembly polls. In the first phase, it will criss-cross over 50 Assembly constituencies.

"Congress is a sinking ship and many of their leaders are waiting to join the BJP," CM Bommai claimed, while adressing a party convention in Gillesugur village of Raichur district. Hitting out at the opposition party, the CM said the Congress claims that it is a champion of the Dalits and the downtrodden, but what has it done to meet the demands of the SC/ST communities when it was in power. "We have increased their quota, with utmost humility," he said. Bommai termed the decision to increase the reservation for SC/STs historic.

Hitting back, the Congress said the BJP's 'Jana Sankalpa Yatra' was in response to its 'Bharat Jodo Yatra'.

Binny to replace Ganguly at BCCI, Shah to continue

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

FORMER India all-rounder soft-spoken Roger Binny has padded up to take the reins of the BCCI from former captain Sourav Ganguly.

The 1983 World Cup winning member from Bengaluru has filed his nomination for the post of BCCI president and is set to take charge after the election during BCCI's AGM in Mumbai on October 18.

Binny is the only one to file nomination for the post. He is currently the president of Karnataka State Cricket Association, and will be the third former cricketer to hold the president's post after Maharaja of Vizianagaram and Ganguly.

There were enough indications that Ganguly would be on his way out. Despite spending time negotiating in New Delhi, he could not convince BCCI powerhouse to allow him another stint.

Roger Binny

Binny is a safe choice as he is not known to make any controversial statements. Right through Ganguly's tenure, there were conflict of interest allegations against him and he also appeared on online gaming advertisements and other commercial products, which often attracted unwanted criticism.

Jay Shah, son of Home Minister Amit Shah, will continue to occupy the powerful secretary's post for one more term. Congressman Rajeev Shukla, will hold on to his vice-president's post.

SC raps BDA, orders transfer of secy, deputy

Earlier, BDA commissioner was removed in alternative sites case

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday orally ordered the immediate transfer of the Secretary and Deputy Secretary (I) of the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) in connection with the illegal allotment of alternative sites by the authority. Justice Abdul S Nazeer reproached the BDA saying, "BDA does not follow any law of the country." The court had removed former BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda over the same issue, 45 days ago.

Without naming CL Ananda, the secretary, and deputy secretary (I) Dr NN Madhu, Justice Nazeer said, "Along with the commissioner, they are also equally responsible for the illegality. Please transfer them immediately."

The decision comes in connection with the allotment of alternative sites to six people including Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, former Kalaburagi MP Basavaraj Ganpathrao Patil Sedam, Bagalkot MLA Veerabhadrayya Charanti-math and former KPSC member M Nagaraj.

The sites, measuring 50x80 sqft, were allotted after November 2021 at the posh RMV Second Stage Ext as alternatives for sites originally allotted in areas with a lesser guidance value.

The court contended that it has resulted in financial losses to BDA. "You have executed sale deeds in favour of six prominent persons of Karnataka. Now, you have to take back those sites. What is the mode of taking possession of those sites?" Justice Nazeer told BDA advocate SK Kulkarni.

He said, "How do you take it... what is the law on that?"

The advocate said that the BDA officers and the party need to sit together and cancel it. "This is public property, not the property of the commissioner," the judge added.

Residents of Alur BDA Layout Phase-2 complain the compound wall is low

Burgling made easy by low walls, weak security

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

RESIDENTS of Bangalore Development Authority's residential Layout in Alur are worried after the second case of a break-in on Monday night. The locker of a 2BHK houses was broken and over ₹1.3 lakh in cash was stolen.

Residents claimed that low compound wall built by BDA with gaps was among the reasons for easy access into the gated community. Mushtaq Ahmed, an engineer, told TNIE, "This could be the second in recent times, but such incidents have happened in the past."

On August 29, miscreants entered by wrenching the latch of a door that opens into the terrace. The victim, Shafi Ahmed, told TNIE, "I lost a total of 150g of gold worth around ₹8 lakh from inside the cupboard. We are living in a constant fear of the next incident," he said.

Alur BDA Phase-2 Owners Welfare Association secretary Sashidhara Giraddi also blamed the low compound wall in 70 per cent of the area. "It is just 5.5 ft high, which anyone can jump over. This is a temporary wall. The blue print of the Layout showed a high wall with pillars. Only the wall at the entrance is of a proper height. There are also gaps at the dead end. A compound wall, which collapsed during the rain, is yet to be fixed," he explained.

Jeeveshwar, another house owner, said, "We, our houses, and vehicles are unsafe in the Layout. Thieves are taking advantage of inadequate security staff and poor lighting."

BDA Assistant Executive Engineer for the project, Prabhulinga Swamy, said the authority was in the process of rebuilding the compound wall. "Tenders will be issued soon. If the association writes to us seeking to raise the height of the wall, we will consider it," he said.

No aggregator autos, violators to shell out ₹5,000 penalty: Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government cracked the whip against app-based cab aggregators Ola, Uber and Rapido for inducing auto rickshaws on their platforms, and said a penalty of ₹5,000 will be imposed against vehicles using the applications.

Transport Commissioner THM Kumar told the media, "In case companies violate the order, they should know that auto rickshaws are not in the Karnataka On-Demand Transportation Technology Aggregators Rule (KOTTAR), 2016."

The transport department alleged that cab aggregators operating auto rickshaws is illegal, and directed them not to operate until further orders.

Meanwhile, with the department seizing vehicles, accusing them of illegally using the applications to shuttle passengers, auto unions held protests and demanded that the government come up with its own application.

While Ola, Uber Taxi Drivers and Owners Association president Tanveer Ahmed welcomed the move and asked the government to come with its own application, Bengaluru Auto Drivers' Unions and Welfare Associations Federation (BADUWAF) head M Manjunath accused the government of playing with the lives of auto drivers and leaving passengers in the lurch.

Tanveer Ahmed told TNIE, "Auto rickshaws have already been fixed with meters and are supposed to charge ₹30 per 2km, however, in autos that run on Ola, Uber or Rapido apps, there have been instances of customers being charged over Rs 125, and this is done because of mobile meters. Hence, we welcome the decision of the government."

He said that neither auto drivers nor customers were benefiting, and the government must have its own application to bridge the gap.

Manjunath also demanded that the government come up with an app for auto rickshaws as many are dependent on it, and customers prefer it as autos pick them up from the doorstep. "In our association alone, we have 16,000 members and 90 per cent rely on the apps. Their life will be impacted by this move, so the government must find a solution," said Manjunath.

Power cut back with Bescom work

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH a break from festivities, power cuts are back as a result of maintenance works. Bescom officials told TNIE that quarterly maintenance works are being undertaken, which was stalled during the festive season. During a break from festivities, maintenance works have resumed to ensure there are no power cuts.

Officials claim that consumers are given prior information regarding power cuts through releases and schedules on social media, however, consumers said that there are unscheduled power cuts too.

"Under Bescom limits, there are 250 sub-stations. Maintenance work of all of them cannot be taken up together, and are done in phases. However, overloading and other issues will lead to unscheduled power cuts," a Bescom official said.

"Every day, there is a festival or some occasion. Besides, everyone is attending office. The energy department should have been prepared to handle peak loads in the early quarter maintenance exercises. According to department records, there is no peak load in monsoon and winter season, and all maintenance works should have been completed earlier to ensure uninterrupted power supply," said Medha L, a citizen.

The entire mood of the times is still very emotional, and not a little mysterious. You'll soon find your feet but, to start with, the best thing you can do is probably to operate on the basis of your dreams and imagination, rather than on some alleged definition of so-called 'reality'!

TAURUS

(Apr 21 - May 21)

You have every right to do as you please, even more so because others have let you down. Why should you rely on those who have proved unreliable? However, such feelings go against the grain and, at work, especially, you should pay all respect due to authority.

GEMINI

(May 22 - June 21)

There is absolutely nothing wrong with being ambitious. The trouble is that you want to come out on top, but you're also usually very idealistic. Avoid the tendency to judge yourself a failure when all around you people are impressed by your success.

CANCER

A home or domestic matter has been responsible for the odd sleepless night. However, you may now be able to identify the deeper pattern and hence the purpose in recent personal difficulties. You might even find that a delay is really to your advantage.

LEO

(July 24 - Aug 23)

Other people may have been dragging their feet, and no doubt they will continue to do so. You may be even more impatient than usual. However, there are now distinct signs of movement, and you can push things along by the simple matter of getting people to talk to each other.

(Oct 24 - Nov 23)

Sometimes you'll do anything to stand up to fresh challenges, but you have been drifting towards escapism recently. The best advice now is to turn and face the questions from which you've been running away. You may not get all the answers, but at least you'll reach some sort of resolution.

Slowly but surely the overall planetary picture is easing. However, there is one last hurdle to clear before you can truly relax and put your feet up. For your own sake, do not let others to commitments they can't fulfil, but give them the time and space they need to come to their own conclusions.

AQUARIUS

Cheque bounce: Power of attorney holders can file complaints

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday said special power of attorney holders of complainants can file private complaints under Section 200 of the CrPC, read with Sections 138 and 141 of the Negotiable Instruments Act.

Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order, while dismissing a batch of petitions filed by HN Nagaraj, proprietor of Venkateshwara Stone Crushers, challenging the orders passed by the Magistrate taking cognisance of the offences under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, in July 2018.

The court also said that the power of attorney could depose to an affidavit, as also record his sworn statement in a proceedings under Section 138.

However, during the course of cross-examination, if it is established that the power of attorney holder has no knowledge regarding the transaction, then the complaint itself would fail and it is the risk which has been taken by the complainant by appointing power of attorney holder, the court added.

The complaints were filed against the petitioner on the allegation that he had borrowed certain money from the complainants, which was not repaid and the cheque which had been issued thereto had got dishonoured with a remark 'account blocked'.

Therefore, the power of attorney holder filed complaints against him. Aggrieved, the petitioners questioned it before the court.

Rahul aims to resurrect Congress with yatra: CM

CM says party facing existential crisis in most states

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, former CM B S Yediyurappa and BJP leaders launch the Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Gillesugur near Raichur on Tuesday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Raichur

ONE cannot compare BJP's Jana Sankalpa Yatra with Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has said.

Speaking to media persons before the launch of the Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Gillesugur village in Raichur taluk on Tuesday, Bommai said, "Congress leader Rahul Gandhi is taking out the Bharat Jodo Yatra to protect the very existence of his party in the country. The Congress is facing an existential crisis in most of the states and Rahul is trying to save the party."

Bommai said the BJP has launched its Jana Sankalpa Yatra to inform people of the

"Bharat Jodo Yatra is setting the narrative and the BJP is being pushed to the back-foot. Today, as we entered the 34th day of our yatra, walking through Chitradurga in Karnataka, the state BJP has launched Jana Sankalpa Yatra," senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said.

The BJP, however, rubbished any comparison between the two. "Rahul Gandhi has started this yatra as his party faces an existential threat. The Congress party has already lost its presence in most of the states," the CM said.

Bommai hit out at the Congress leaders who called him a puppet in the hands of the RSS. "I admire the RSS and am a follower of it. RSS is an organisation which is committed to the upliftment of the country. Siddaramaiah is following the dictates of a small boy (Rahul Gandhi). If he tells him to sit, Siddaramaiah sits, if he asks him to stand, Siddaramaiah stands. Siddaramaiah has no self-respect", the CM said.

Former CM Yediyurappa said Siddaramaiah is dreaming of becoming the chief minister again but that will never happen. "Rahul Gandhi, who levels allegations of corruption against the BJP government, has forgotten the Commonwealth Games scam, 2G scam and coal scam," he said.

Meanwhile, the BJP leaders tried to showcase the government's achievements.

achievements of the State and Union governments. "By doing this, we will get a referendum from the people. BJP will hold 50 Jana Sankalpa Yatras in Karnataka," he said, adding that the party has not launched the yatra fearing electoral loss. "We are confident of coming back to power in 2023 because of the good work we have implemented. The Congress has launched its yatra because it fears losing the election," Bommai added.

On the government's decision to increase reservation for SCs/STs, Bommai said, "It was a demand made by the people of the state and we have responded to it. The Congress has no role in the decision."

Cong has no moral right to speak about BJP: BSY

Raichur: The BJP launched the Jana Sankalpa Yatra from Raichur district as it is the birthplace of Raghavendra Swami, said former chief minister B S Yediyurappa at Gillesugur village of Raichur taluk on Tuesday. Launching the Jana Sankalpa Yatra along with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Yediyurappa targeted the Congress for alleging that the BJP government is corrupt. Everybody knows that top leaders of the Congress -- Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi -- are on bail, he said. "People who were blaming the BJP government kept mum on Robert Vadra. Do they think that people do not know about the National Herald case? Do they think that people have forgotten about former chief minister Siddaramaiah receiving a Hublot watch worth Rs 25 lakh as a gift?" he said. Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol and Transport Minister B Sriramulu also spoke. ENS

Upparas seek ST tag, plan march to B'luuru

Mysuru: In the wake of the state government announcing an increase in reservation for SCs and STs, Uppara leaders have threatened to boycott both the Congress and BJP if the community is not included in the Scheduled Tribe category. Suvarna Soudha completes a decade with just 80 days in session

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

WITH the Suvarna Vidhan Soudha in Belagavi completing 10 years of its existence on Tuesday, the mammoth structure, established as the second power centre of Karnataka, has become a white elephant for the state government. Despite spending Rs 5 crore on its maintenance each year, the government has been able to conduct legislature sessions here only for 80 days in the last 10 years.

For the sake formality, it appears, the government has been holding legislature sessions in the soudha for just 10 days a year. The continued demand from various quarters across North Karnataka to utilise the soudha effectively round-the-year has fallen on deaf ears.

The government, headed by then CM H D Kumaraswamy, had decided to construct the Suvarna Vidhan Soudha in Belagavi with the sole objective of holding a full-fledged winter session of the state legislature every year besides getting several important offices and departments shifted to the building. A whopping Rs 450 crore was spent on its construction on the 127 acre land in Halaga between 2007 and 2012.

According to sources, eight legislature sessions have been held in the soudha so far with each lasting not more than 10 days. The soudha remained shut for two years due to the Covid crisis. The Office of Information Commissioner is the only state-level office located at the soudha. A huge sum is being spent on the maintenance of the gardens on its premises besides the power tariff, sources said.

Several people from North Karnataka region have criticised the government's failure to utilise it effectively and said the public money is being squandered wastefully by the government on

BHARAT JODO YATRA

CONG TELLS EC: NO MISUSE, KIDS COMING TO SEE RAHUL

6 SUBHASH CHANDRA @Sanikere (Chitradurga dt)

THE Congress has never used children for politics, and once our party comes to power, our government will have special programmes for all children, from the cradle to college, KPCC president DK Shivakumar said here on Tuesday, during the Bharat Jodo Yatra.

He was responding to the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) writing to the Election Commission, stating that the Congress was violating the law by "misusing children" during the Yatra. He told the media that the team comprising former minister Jairam Ramesh, AICC General Secretary in-charge of Communications, and others visited the Election Commission and submitted a 50-page report.

The Congress slammed the NCPCR's complaint as "frivolous" and "baseless". "The BJP's friends should understand this. Bharat Jodo Yatra is a mass movement, it does not have any party, religion, community or creed, anyone can take part in the yatra, and parents are bringing their children to show them Indira Gandhi's grandson Rahul Gandhi walking through their streets. Villagers are also coming to see, interact, share their grievances and happy moments with Rahul Gandhi, and walk with him," Shivakumar said.

Looking at the support the Bharat Jodo Yatra is receiving, the Central government has registered a baseless complaint with NCPCR, but we have addressed it, he added.

The controversy erupted when the child rights body asked the poll body to inquire and take necessary action against Rahul Gandhi and his party for allegedly "misusing children as political tools".

SC/ST quota hike keeping elections in mind: Siddu

BALLARI: Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah has accused the Bommai-led BJP government in the state of giving its nod to increase SC/ST quota keeping the 2023 elections in mind. Addressing Congress workers after inspecting the preparations for the party's Bharat Jodo Yatra here on Tuesday, Siddaramaiah said, "Minister Sriramulu had claimed that quota for STs would be increased within a day of the BJP coming to power... but he took two years."

"With Assembly elections fast approaching, BJP leaders are claiming that they are in favour of SCs and STs. But people are clever and will teach a befitting lesson to the BJP," he said and added that it was his government that had proposed to increase quota for SCs/STs and formed a committee to study the matter.

Comparing BJP to a factory that produces lies, Siddaramaiah said, "BJP leaders, including PM Narendra Modi, make people believe their lies. Before the 2014 elections, they said the value of the Rupee will be more than US Dollar... but $1 is now Rs 83. While the UPA lost power, the country's debt was Rs 53 lakh crore and now it has reached Rs 153 lakh crore." ENS

Yatra helped me understand Karnataka better: Chandy jr

6 SUBHASH CHANDRA @Sanikere (Chitradurga dt)

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra has gained momentum ever since it entered Karnataka. Rahul's street-corner meetings and interaction programmes have been evoking a good response from the people. Led by Rahul, Congress leaders from Karnataka and other states are meeting people in rural areas to understand their grievances and offer solutions to tackle them.

Prominent among the leaders is son of Oomen Chandy, former Kerala CM, Chandy Oomen, who has been walking barefoot from Trissur. The 37-year-old leader, who also heads the Indian Youth Congress Outreach wing, said that the Yatra has nothing to do with politics. "It is just to unite India," added. "I started my Yatra from Kanyakumari wearing shoes. However, I walked without shoes at Kollam. Since then, I have been walking barefoot after observing its health benefits," he said.

"The main aim of the Yatra is to spread love and affection among the people and defeat the divisive forces. Walking with my leader Rahul Gandhi is a rare experience. Meeting people in rural areas and understanding their problems and needs is a great experience," he said. Oommen, who has an LLM degree in Constitutional Law from the Christ University in Bengaluru, said that he is now learning Kannada. "By the time the Yatra reaches Raichur, I will speak Kannada fluently," he added.

"This Yatra has helped me understand Karnataka's rich cultural heritage and also know the State better," Oommen said.

The Yatra undertaken by Rahul is not for votes. Even though electoral politics is one aspect, the need of the hour is to unite the people of India. The country will witness a big change once the Yatra concludes, he said.

Women's struggles, grit inspire Rahul

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Sanikere (Chitradurga dt)

TUESDAY was Rahul Gandhi's day with women -- common workaday sorts like teachers, labourers and waste pickers -- and interactions with them left the Congress leader impressed. Listening to their daily struggles and domestic issues, he exhorted them to be "lionesses of their homes".

Lakshmi Devi, a guest teacher in a government school in Kudligi who was born without hands, stunned Rahul with her determination to carve a life for herself. She adapted herself to write with her feet and excelled in studies, and then pursued her DEd. Rahul admitted that he could never have achieved what she had, if he was similarly challenged.

Listening to their viewpoints and wisdom was truly inspiring, he said, and added that he would do his best to address their issues.

Rahul interacted with women labourers of MGN-REGA, Anganwadi workers, Asha volunteers, waste-pickers and beedi rollers. Kotramma, a MGNREGA worker from Hagari Bommanahalli, explained that work was limited to 100 days per family, and wages fixed at Rs 309 a day. She demanded that the workday cap be raised to 200 days per person, and daily wages to Rs 600, to counter rising prices.

Baghyamma, an Asha worker in Hulikunta village, said she served as a bridge between the community and healthcare sector. Her earnings were based on an incentive system with no stability, and she not paid on time, she said.

Leela, an Anganwadi worker, said salaries had not been increased in a long time and they had no job security.

Jabeena Khanam, a beedi roller from Davanagere, complained that her wages are lower than that fixed by the government. She wanted better living conditions and healthcare and demanded that a Development Board be set up for them.

There was also a long discussion on domestic violence. Almost 80 per cent of the women confessed they were subjected to domestic violence by their drunk husbands. They said they were running their own homes and sending children to school, while their husbands spent their earnings on gambling or alcohol. The women wanted liquor to be banned.

To this, Rahul proclaimed that they should become lionesses. He stated that women should come together to stop domestic abuse and that banning liquor comes with its own set of problems.

AAP takes up cause of areca, pepper growers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

GROWERS of black pepper and areca nut have suffered a loss of Rs 1.26 lakh crore due to the government's decision to import the two produce, the Aam Aadmi Party said and demanded an inquiry by the Enforcement Directorate alleging violations of laws like SAFEMA and FERA among others to facilitate the import.

AAP's Brijesh Kalappa said Karnataka grows the finest areca nut and black pepper in the entire world. "The Central government decided to import areca nut from Bhutan via Nepal and has also permitted import of black pepper from Vietnam via Sri Lanka for the very first time. Growers of these agricultural produce are aggrieved by the decision of the Centre to allow import when there is sufficient production of areca and black pepper in the country for domestic consumption. We demand that heavy import duty, which is punitive in nature, be imposed on the import of these two produce," he said. He said what is completely unfathomable is the fact that while PM Modi harps on the subject of 'Make in India' why is he encouraging 'grow elsewhere and import to India' instead of 'Grow in India'?

its maintenance. "Besides holding a full-fledged winter session of the legislature, the government should utilise the structure regularly to stop people's money going down the drain," said writer D S Chougale.

Politician M S Bagwan appealed to the government to make the winter sessions effective and result-oriented in the soudha.

Besides having discussions on major issues pertaining to the state, the sessions must also take important decisions to develop North Karnataka evenly, he added.

A series of agitations have been staged over the past few years demanding complete utilisation of the soudha, but to no avail. The cost of this white elephant's maintenance has been a huge Rs 50 crore in the last 10 years, according to sources.

Kerala horror: 2 women 'sacrificed' for wealth

Couple & man claiming to be a sorcerer held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kochi/Pathanamthitta

A couple's greed and superstition ended in the cold-blooded murder of two women in Elanthoor, a locality in Pathanamthitta district situated halfway between Kozhencherry and Pathanamthitta towns. Three persons, including the couple, were arrested.

Bhagaval Singh, an ayurvedic healer in Elanthoor, his wife Laila, and Mohammed Shafi alias Rasheed, a self-proclaimed sorcerer, were arrested for the abduction and murder of Tamil Nadu native Padmam, 52, and Thrissur native Rosily, 50. The women lived in Ernakulam and had gone missing some time back. The trio confessed to killing the women, chopping off their bodies and burying the parts on the premises of the couple's house, said the police. The police said it was Shafi who convinced the couple into sacrificing the women, saying it would bring them prosperity and wealth. Padmam had settled in Kochi, around 15 years ago, while Rosily, a native of Wadakkanchery in Thrissur, lived in Kalady. Padmam, who sold lottery tickets at Kadavanthra, had gone missing on September 24. Rosily went missing in June. It was the missing complaint filed by Padmam's sister Palaniamma that led police to the gruesome crime.

"Shafi first created a fake Facebook profile and befriended Singh introducing himself as Sridevi. He told Singh that there was a sorcerer Rasheed in Perumbavoor who could bring prosperity and wealth to the couple through black magic," said the police. Unaware that he was in contact with the same person, Singh called Shafi using the number provided by 'Sridevi' and urged him to come to his house. There, Shafi convinced him that performing human sacrifice will bring the couple prosperity. He also offered to bring people who could be sacrificed.

The police said he took Padmam to the couple's house and hit her on the head with a log, rendering her unconscious. Laila then slit Padmam's throat and inflicted wounds on her private parts. The trio collected her blood and spread it around the house. They chopped the body and buried it on the premises," said the police. Rosily was killed similarly.

Tests in Hindi: Pinarayi flays move

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

KERALA has registered protest against the reported move to make Hindi the only medium of language for competitive examinations for various posts in the Central government. Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan said in his letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi that question papers should be given in all languages specified in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution.

"Our youth has limited job opportunities in the government sector and any attempt to put a substantial section of them at a relative disadvantage will not be in the best interest of our society. Job-seekers and students of our country have serious apprehension in this regard," he said.

The Chief Minister requested that no language may be preferred as a medium of instruction over other languages, "lest it should be seen as an imposition". It does not augur well for our cooperative federal set-up, he said.

The CM's letter was in the wake of media reports citing the report of the Parliamentary Committee on Official Languages that there was a move to bring certain changes in the medium of language in which question papers are printed for competitive exams in various posts in the Government of India. There were also reports that Hindi will be made the compulsory medium of instruction in educational institutions ranging from Kendriya Vidyalayas to IITs, IIMs and Central universities.

RAJA TOOK ₹4.5 CR TO GIVE REAL ESTATE FIRM INFRA STATUS: CBI CHARGESHEET

C SHIVAKUMAR @Chennai

THE chargesheet filed by CBI indicting former union minister and DMK's sitting Nilgiris MP A Raja in a 2015 disproportionate asset case, alleged he granted infrastructure status to a Gurugram-based real estate firm to build a hotel in Kancheepuram in exchange for money. This took place when Raja was Union Environment

Minister in 2007, as per the chargesheet.

The chargesheet, filed in August 2022, alleged that the real estate firm routed the payment of ₹4.56 crore to Raja through a company named Kovai Shelters Private Limited, belonging to C Krishnamurthy, a close aide of the ex-minister. Raja's relatives are also directors in the firm. The CBI had booked Raja for amassing assets worth ₹5.53 crore disproportionate to his known sources of income.

According to the chargesheet, Raja gave infrastructure status to the Gurugram-based firm in January 2007 for which the payment of ₹4.56 crore was received through Kovai Shelters the next month.

Kovai Shelters used the money to buy land in the periphery of Coimbatore, ostensibly to develop as stand alone plots but the CBI claimed its probe revealed the company was neither into any real business nor were any plots developed.

Even the agreement Kovai Shelters signed with the Gurugram firm for the commission for purchase of land was a forged one, chargesheet said.

Chennai's Alandur sees petrol bombs, machetes as gangs fight it out in public

SAHAYA NOVINSTON LOBO @Chennai

IN a turf war between two gangs, around 30 men hurled petrol bombs and attacked each other with machetes in public view in Chennai's Alandur on Monday night. Three men were injured and at least 19 were arrested. The violence occurred a day after State police conducted 'Operation Lightning,' in which hundreds of history sheeters were arrested.

The face-off began when at least 20 men affiliated to notorious gangster Robin entered Abraham Street in Alandur on motor vehicles and made a ruckus. They brandished machetes and iron rods and damaged two-wheelers, two autorickshaws as well as household items kept outside by residents. Police said three men hurled petrol bombs in an isolated ground near Siddhar temple in the locality.

After investigation, police said a turf war has been raging between gangs of Robin and Nagore Meeran for about five years. Both gangsters are allegedly ganja peddlers in Alandur and often quarrelled over territory in collecting mamool and pedalling ganja. Last year on October 14, Robin's gang allegedly murdered Nagore Meeran at his residence. Robin and five others were arrested and recently released on bail.

"Meeran's gang was waiting to murder Robin in revenge. On Monday morning, Meeran's gang members kidnapped a person from Robin's gang and tortured for details on Robin's. By evening, the kidnapped person was released," said Frank D Ruban, Assistant Commissioner of Police, Madipakkam.

At around 9pm, Robin's gang members entered Abraham Street where most of Meeran's aides reside. The petrol bombs were hurled at locations where the Meeran's gang usually gathered. "Soon Meeran's gang members got into a fight with the Robin's gang," said the police officer.

AFTER Arpitha developed stomach pain after the incident, she was taken to a private hospital for treatment in Gowda's vehicle on October 9. She was then shifted to District Hospital in Chikkamagaluru where she is undergoing treatment.

According to the complaint, about a fortnight ago, a scuffle broke out between Vijay's relatives Satish and Manju and Gowda's neighbours over a matter involving children which led to Gowda assaulting Manju.

An angry Manju told Gowda that he would not work at his estate anymore. Gowda then asked Manju to return the money he had borrowed from him and leave.

The assault and locking up incident took place when Manju and Satish went out to arrange money from another estate.

Superintendent of Police (SP) Uma Prashanth told The New Indian Express that the Dalit families, who hail from Mudiger taluk, had borrowed Rs 9 lakh from Gowda and were working at his estate for the past four months.

"We have registered a case based on the video that went viral. We have taken up an investigation. Further details will be known during the course of investigation," she said.

The Balehonnur police in Chikkamagaluru district registered a case against Gowda and Tilak under Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (Prevention of Atrocities) Act. The police said they are yet to arrest the accused.

Soon, rope car to link Palani-Kodai in 40 mins

JEYALAKSHMI RAMANUJAM @Dindigul

A rope car to bring the travel time between Kodaikanal and Palani down from three hours to just 40 minutes will soon become a reality if all goes well.

As part of a National Highways Logistics Management Limited (NHLML) proposal to connect the two popular tourist destinations in Dindigul district at a cost of ₹500 crore, engineers from Austria and NHLML officials have started a pre-feasibility study.

Most visitors to Kodaikanal also visit the Dhandayuthapani Swamy temple in Palani, which is 64km away by road. However, it takes close to three hours to travel the distance due to a high number of hairpin bends on the route.

An NHLML official said the pre-feasibility study is being conducted by Bernard Gruppe ZT GmbH in joint venture with

ONE OF SEVEN SPOTS TO GET THIS FACILITY

The Union government had announced that rope car facility would be made available in seven places, including Palani-Kodai. The project is being undertaken by Union and TN govts

Bernard Consultants Pvt Ltd and Salzmann Ingenieure ZT GmbH. "They will submit their report within six months. Following this, we will carry out an aerial survey after getting permission from the forest department. Then, the tender will be floated. The whole exercise might take another three years," he said.

Anjuvedu has been selected as the rope car station in Palani and in Kodaikanal the rope car station may be set up near Kurji Anadavar Temple. Two more stations will be set up but the sites have not been identified yet, he added.

"With the rope car service, pilgrims and tourists will be able to reach their destination in 40 minutes while enjoying nature's beauty," he said.

Southern Zone NHLML Zonal Officer TV Shivaji said NHLML is doing similar work at Uttarakhand in five places.

BRICKWORK RATINGS CLOSURE WAKE-UP CALL FOR RATING AGENCIES

Rating agencies in the country were given a jolt by the capital market regulator when it ordered the closure of one such firm—Brickwork Ratings—for its repeated lapses in discharging its duties. The action against Brickwork Ratings was a timely reminder by the regulator that it is not going to treat multiple failures with kid gloves and that it can take drastic action for such lapses—many of which were deliberate.

Sebi's action serves as a wake-up call to the rating agencies, which are critical for a robust financial market in any country. They serve as the safety valve against any possible future financial mess—the kind of which the world witnessed during the 2008 financial crisis.

Rating agencies received severe criticism in the aftermath of the financial crisis for failing to identify risks associated with debt instruments, which later led to the collapse of the global financial market. The 2008 financial crisis 'exposed' the unholy nexus between rating agencies and the companies they used to rate. It also brought to the fore the conflict of interest between rating agencies and the companies they used to rate. India, which was not long ago battling with high NPAs, loan and corporate bond defaults, needs to be extra guarded against another failure of the financial market system. Rating agencies, being a key cog in the wheel of an effective financial market, cannot afford to take this role lightly.

The Brickwork Ratings case has multiple instances, as listed in the Sebi order, of delayed recognition of defaults, material events and even failure to downgrade the ratings of securities. Some of these might be due to inefficiencies of the firm, but there are instances that allude to deliberate non-actions. Sebi also pointed out how the rating agency failed to adhere to a strict separation of its rating operations from the business development team. The influence on ratings due to commercial interest cannot be ruled out. These are serious lapses, and the regulators must avoid ignoring even the hint of such mistakes—deliberate or otherwise. Even RBI recently came down heavily on the rating agencies for not following some of its repeated directions on basic disclosures. Hope the Brickwork Ratings case serves as a lesson to both rating agencies as well as the regulators.

SHIFT FROM TRS TO BRS ARDUOUS JOURNEY AHEAD

Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao has renamed his Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) with the avowed objective of de-throning the BJP government at the Centre. But, the mere change of nomenclature does not make it a national party. The BRS will get the tag only when it fulfills the stipulated Election Commission conditions. KCR has a long way to go. The first test for the rebranded TRS is the upcoming by-election for the Munugode Assembly constituency, where it is locked in a triangular fight with the BJP and the Congress. He will then face the Assembly elections next year. They are not going to be a walk in the park.

Anti-incumbency aside, BRS throws up an interesting question. The formation of a separate Telangana is the raison d'être of the TRS, and as such, it has more or less enjoyed a monopoly over the Telangana sentiment. Giving up the prized brand may have repercussions. Any reverses in the Assembly elections might upset KCR's national ambitions.

Then will come the test of his lifetime—fighting Prime Minister Narendra Modi in alliance with other regional parties in 2024. It is unclear if K Chandrashekar Rao is on the same page as other regional leaders, most of whom have no qualms about working with the Congress. History has repeatedly shown that regional parties cannot cobble up a majority on their own to form a government at the Centre. Moreover, a regional party, the TRS, will have a lot of ground to cover to acquire national colours. To start with, Telangana will have to change the way it deals with neighbouring states with whom it has quite a few problems.

Even if KCR can overcome these hurdles, there remains the most important question of an agenda. Whichever front comes into existence will have to offer a viable alternative development plan. Coming together only on an anti-BJP slogan will yield the same results as previous experiments on the third front. Finally, KCR's detractors have not lost time in pointing out that his anti-BJP stance could actually end up helping the BJP. After all, he was friendly with the party for a good part of his tenure and sought to decimate the Congress in the state—in a way paving for the rise of the BJP. KCR's BRS raises more questions than answers.

QUICK TAKE

ROADS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Transport minister Nitin Gadkari told the Indian Roads Congress last Saturday that roads in Uttar Pradesh will be better than the United States before 2024. He announced projects worth ₹8000 crore, saying more investment is in the pipeline. A welcome step, as infrastructure is vital for economic growth. Laying new roads is not an isolated exercise but a package deal to create a robust driving environment which is largely absent. Maintain quality control for the longevity of roads. At the very least, avoid stray cattle and unscientific placement of bus stops. Enforce lane-driving manners and modern traffic management systems.

The forthcoming 20th Congress of the Chinese Communist Party is expected to confirm a third term for President Xi Jinping at its head, breaking from a three-decade tradition of a two-term limit. He will almost certainly be elected for a third term as President by the National People's Congress in March 2023.

Unsourced reports surfaced recently in sections of the Indian and foreign media, claiming that Xi was under house arrest, preparatory to being overthrown in a coup. Stories of internal power struggles in China are not unusual, nor are periodical apocalyptic predictions about the Chinese economy and its political system. The opacity of the Chinese decision-making apparatus provides fertile ground for such "analysis", which feeds into wishful thinking and the craving for sensation in today's media age.

On the contrary, the current wisdom is that Xi has consolidated his authority in the party, installing loyalists in key positions in the military, security and intelligence hierarchies. The party describes him as a "core leader" and has incorporated the "Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese characteristics" into its constitution. The personality cult is further burnished by his projection as the architect of China's efficient response to Covid-19 (erasing public memory of the initial confusion in its handling). He will now break free of the mortality of the two-term limit and join the Chinese Communist pantheon of Mao Zedong and Deng Xiaoping, making it a trinity.

Many China-watchers believe that the Congress will strengthen Xi's hand in his goal of "rejuvenation of the Chinese nation". His effort to make China a developed country by 2049 has involved diluting the market-led policies of his predecessors and pursuing a state-led strategy of economic and technological self-reliance, with emphasis on equitable income distribution. He has tightened the Party's control of the military, supervised its professionalisation and declared that China would have a "world-class military" by mid-century.

The foreign policy of the Xi decade barely conceals China's superpower ambitions—an unabashed deviation from the narratives of "peaceful rise" and "peaceful development" that Xi's predecessors had promoted. China has aggressively expanded its political, technological and economic reach across all continents. Its tools include the carrot of infrastructure projects (as in the Belt and Road Initiative), the stick of economic coercion to enforce compliance with Chinese foreign policy interests, and unilateral action to enforce its territorial claims (as with the disputed islands in the South China Sea). The abrasive "wolf warrior" posture of Chinese diplomacy is also a major departure from the past.

The headline trend of India-China relations in the Xi era has been downwards, despite India's best efforts to sustain a modus vivendi. The legacy frictions—from the border dispute, irredentist Chinese claims on Arunachal Pradesh, its encouragement for Pakistan's anti-India actions and undermining India's global interests in other ways—have sharpened. They have been reinforced by newer issues. The vastly expanded Chinese political, economic and military presence in neighbouring countries arouse India's security concerns. The China Pakistan Economic Corridor—a physical and digital infrastructure link from western China to Pakistan's Arabian Sea coastline—not only passes through Pakistan-occupied Indian territory, but also envisages a strong Chinese political and military presence on India's western flank.

China's debt-financed dual-use port infrastructure development in India's immediate neighbourhood undermines India's interests in the region. Most importantly, the tenuous (and periodically disturbed) "peace and tranquillity" in the border areas, flowing from agreements in the 1990s, broke down altogether in April-May 2020, with the military confrontation in Ladakh. The standoff has effectively stalled India-China dialogue, to the extent that the two leaders even avoided a public handshake at the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation summit in Uzbekistan last month.

Much of the developed world now sees an assertive China—flexing its muscles in its neighbourhood, upgrading its naval presence in the Indo Pacific, expanding its global economic influence, flaunting its advanced technologies and manipulating multilateral institutions—as a strategic competitor. The United States had recognative forms of UNIDO, WHO and other organisations. The sadness of UNESCO is it had no theory of science, in fact, no critique of it. I thought of the difference it could have made if Covid was read through different lenses. Nagaraj added that UNESCO has no theory of waste and wasted people. You use the word obsolescence to abandon cultures or orphan them in a museum. Why is it people forget that the great art critic Ananda Coomaraswamy felt that the Indian national movement should have fought a guerrilla war against the museum? The museum, he claimed, was necrophiliac in nature and had no sense of living cultures.

I sense how relevant the two intellectuals were today. U R Ananthamurthy would have created a more playful idea of childhood while our regime was industrialising it. Nagaraj often asked me indirectly whether there could be Dalit imagination of science. Dreaming new ideas of waste, rethinking a sensorium, and redesigning a city were some ideas on his intellectual menu card. UNESCO should become a collection of thought experiments that change the very direction of policy. Ananthamurthy argued that svadeshi and swaraj were two great twin concepts of culture-breaking western binaries, creating diversities. I am hoping that the new idea of the Anthropocene is read along with the indigenista movements to create an alternative world of culture and nature. UNESCO then becomes an exegesis of alternative possibilities, not a procrustean frame, a second-hand version of some western handbook.

Suddenly one realised that the UN, as an imagination, had gone to sleep, too concerned about security and development. UNESCO had ironically become philistine.

UNESCO was neither a trustee, custodian, or interpreter of cultures. It embedded them through the idea of heritage. Heritage becomes more a nationalist legacy than a cultural continuity UNESCO needs to be disembedded from officialdom and re-embedded in culture through open debates. U R Ananthamurthy made one critical point in this context. The very logic of development erases both story and the storyteller. The tragedy of Narmada expresses this. Orality shrinks as the dam displaces culture.

In sad ways amounting to indifference to violence, whether it is the violence of language or species loss, extinction has become every day, and the autism of UNESCO to this phenomenon is worrying. It is civil society attuned to memory, not memorials, that has to capture this loss of culture and diversity through extinction, genocide, triage, displacement, and obsolescence.

A few years ago, there was a landmark incident at Chirala in Andhra Pradesh. It was at a meeting between local weavers and historians of technology from Europe. For the first two days, nothing happened. The White men sat in their chairs, the weavers on the ground, maintaining their distance. On the third day the two groups sat on the ground, and the ecology of the discussion changed as artisans and historians met as intellectual equals. One of the craft activists turned to a historian and said, "You not only destroyed my livelihood, but you also destroyed my theory..." It was a poignant moment of truth-telling. One will need more such occasions to create confidence in the diversity of theory. Epistemic diversity will be a critical part of the culture.

Finally, one must rework UNESCO's original dreams by recreating the knowledge systems for it. In the insurrection of classic knowledges, the dreams of peace must be coded. Knowledge and peace have reciprocity that the original UNESCO manifesto captured. It is time to return to the ideas of culture which create new dreams of peace. UNESCO has to combine svadeshi and swaraj to create new cultures of peace. A culture bereft of peace is no longer democratic. A reinvented UNESCO is part of the Satyagraha of the future.

Importance of Hindi

Apropos of Don't start new language war, uphold unity: Stalin to Centre (Oct 11). While Tamil Nadu continues to oppose Hindi and deny children of the same in government schools, other states are encouraging students to learn Hindi. The politics that surrounds the language in Tamil Nadu is making students suffer. Can Hindi's importance be ignored?

Modi vs Kejri in Gujarat

In a thinly veiled reference, PM Modi has insinuated that Arvind Kejriwal and his AAP members are 'urban naxals'. Although he has not elaborated much on this, he seems to admit that the AAP is making inroads into his home turf. Ultimately, voters must decide which model of governance is better.

Right side of history

The External Affairs Minister's somewhat aggressive posturing in the West about the distant past with respect to India is ill-advised. In recent years, almost as a way of atoning this, the West has warmed up to India. The entire focus should be on nurturing these relations. We should be on the right side of current history as it builds up.

Don't underestimate AAP

Apropos of AAP will be a non-starter in Gujarat, Himachal polls: Thakur (Oct 11). The national parties never considered the AAP as a serious contender and ended up paying the price in Punjab and Delhi. But by naming Raghav Chadha, the architect of the Punjab win, as the co-incharge of the Gujarat battle, the AAP means politics. National parties can underestimate Kejriwal at their own risk.

The Joint task force was established in 2013 to promote trade, investment and economic ties between the UAE and India. This was the first meeting of the Joint Task Force since the signing of the CEPA and unveiling of the Joint UAE-India Vision Statement in February 2022. "Since the previous meeting of the Joint Task Force in October 2021, several significant milestones have been reached that serve to cement the close, growing and strategic relationship between India and the UAE," said Sheikh Hamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan.

Meanwhile, during the course of the meeting, discussions also took place on ways to enhance bilateral investments in key sectors of food security, manufacturing, infrastructure, energy and technology.

The UAE agreed that the Department of Economic Development of Abu Dhabi will explore this area of cooperation with the counterparties in India in order to agree to a mutually beneficial implementation approach. Both sides reviewed the status of the negotiations of the India-UAE Bilateral Investment Treaty. Twelve rounds of negotiations have so far been conducted.

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

CHIEF Justice of India U U Lalit on Tuesday recommended to the Centre to appoint Justice D Y Chandrachud, senior most judge after him in the Supreme Court, as his successor.

Railways to use 5G-enabled tech to prevent train snags

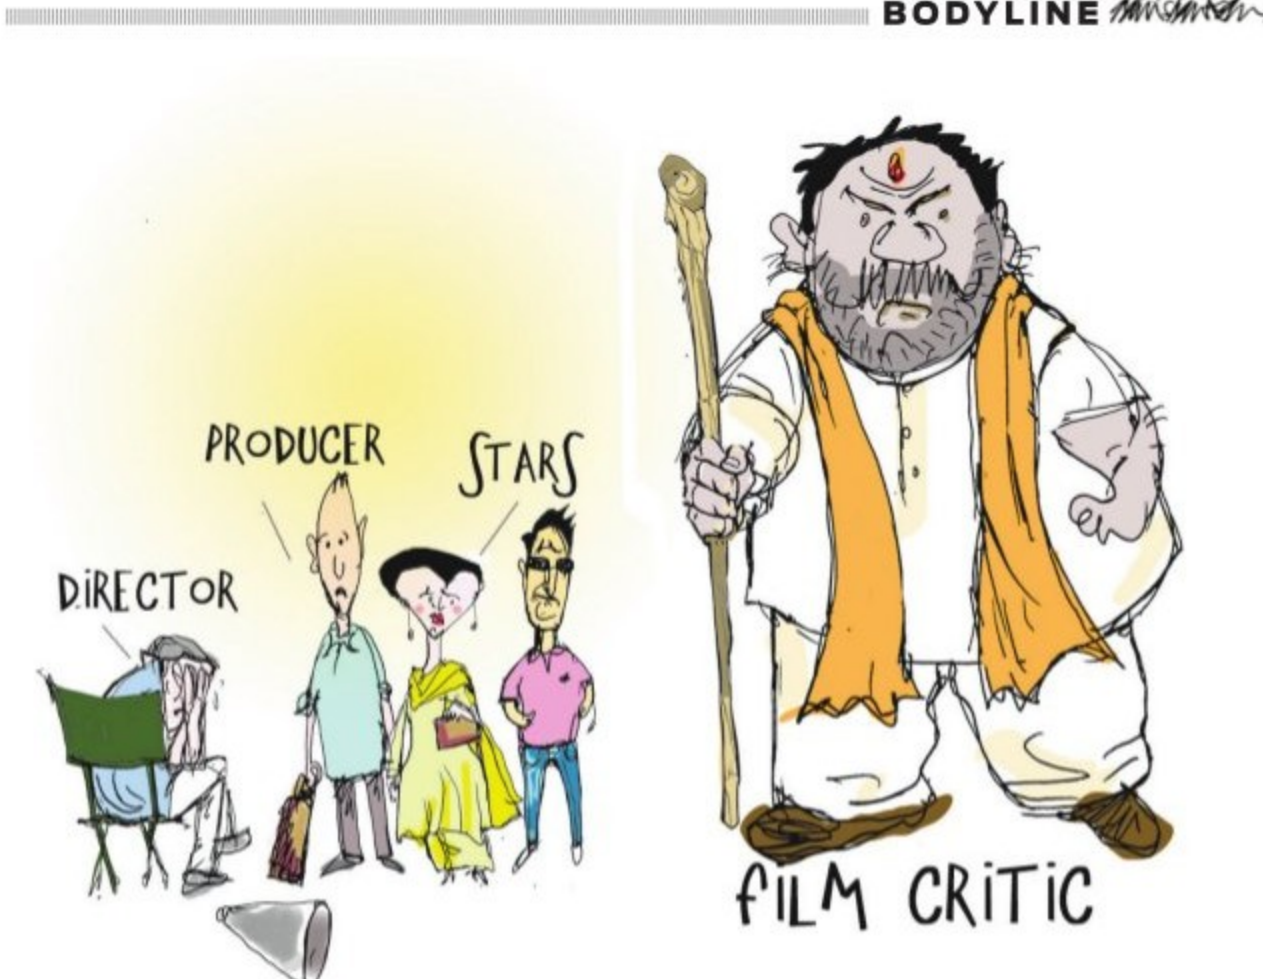

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN a bid to put a complete check on technical snags in running trains, which occur generally in the axels of wheels of passenger and freight trains, the Railways is considering aircraft technology where engine heat is monitored through sensor chips during a flight. The Railways plans to apply the technology in both passenger and freight trains through 5G-enabled wireless sensor chips. The wireless sensor chips would be installed in engines, axles coaches and wagons of almost all passenger and freight trains to monitor the existing level of heat.

According to official figures, the Railways runs 22,593 trains, including 13,452 passenger trains, on daily frequency.

To begin with, such sensor chips would be installed in passenger trains. Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said, "Yes, we plan to install sensor chips not only with the axels but also in the locomotives to monitor the heat."

He said at least 2,000 sensor chips would be required to be installed for such a safety feature.

Congress rebuts PM remark, says Patel favoured J&K's Pak merger

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

The Congress on Tuesday rebutted Prime Minister Modi's claim that he was able to resolve the Kashmir issue by following the footsteps of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel.

Taking a dig at PM's remarks on Nehru, Jairam Ramesh, the AICC general secretary in charge of communication, said the PM had overlooked facts to castigate Nehru and whitewash history. The Congress leader quoted from the book Patel: A Life by Rajmohan Gandhi.

"All this has been documented well in Rajmohan Gandhi's biography of Sardar Patel. These facts are also known to the PM's new man in J&K," said Ramesh. His reference was to Ghulam Nabi Azad, who resigned from Congress and floated a new party.

In a veiled attack on Jawaharlal Nehru, the PM squarely put the blame on Nehru for not solving the Kashmir issue. He was speaking at a rally in Gujarat, ahead of the state Assembly elections. "Sardar saheb persuaded all the princely states to merge with India. But another person handled this one issue of Kashmir," Modi said. Countering the claims, Ramesh cited the book, which says that Vallabhbhai's lukewarm response to Kashmir had lasted until September 13, 1947. "Sardar Patel was okay with J&K joining Pakistan till Sept 13 1947 when the Nawab of Junagadh acceded to Pakistan," Ramesh cited from the book.

"That morning, in a letter to Baldev Singh, he had indicated that 'if Kashmir decides to join the other Dominion, he would accept the facts. His attitude changed later that day when he heard that Pakistan had accepted Junagadh's accession. If Jinnah could take hold of a Hindu majority state with a Muslim ruler, why the Sardar should not be interested in a Muslim majority state merging with a Hindu ruler," it further read.

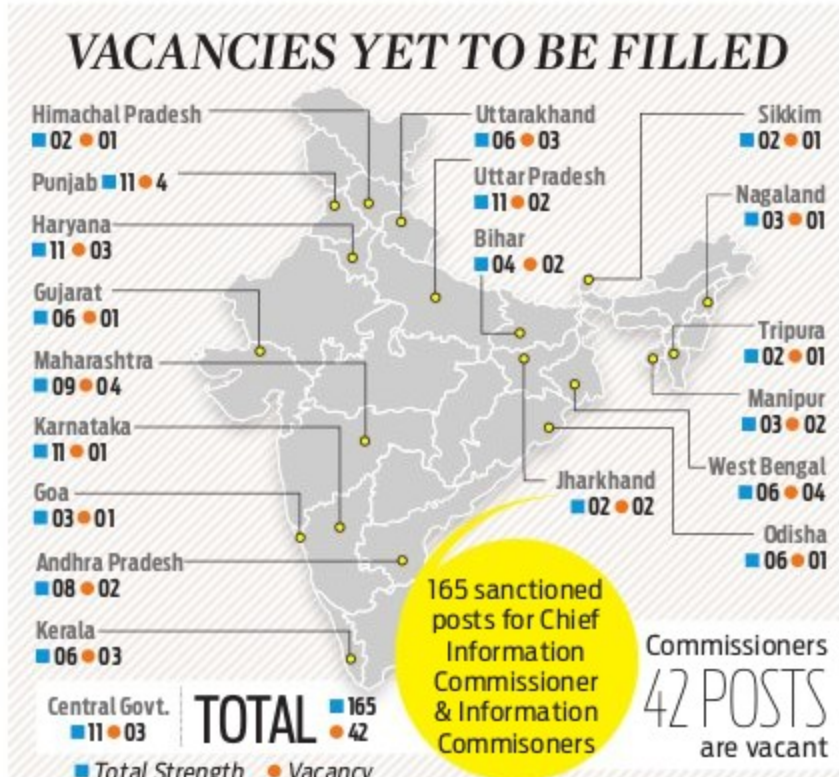

42 info commissioner posts lie vacant: Report

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

EVEN as 42 of the 165 posts of information commissioners remain vacant at the Central Information Commission (CIC) and its counterparts in the states, more than 4.2 crore RTI applications were filed and 26 lakh second appeal/complaints were registered before the watchdog bodies in 2022, the Transparency International India's (TII) latest report unveiled on Tuesday. While the vacant posts include two chief state information commissioners, the state bodies have a representation of only 5 percent women information commissioners, the report said, adding that the RTI regime was "yet to adapt to the pace of technology/digitalisation".

Pointing out that the implementation of the 2005 RTI Act "has not been uniform across the country", the report said that the "mindset and culture amongst a majority of government functionaries and public authorities is still set in the era of secretive functioning of government".

The Centre received the most number of RTI applications in 2022, at 1.19 crore, with Maharashtra a distant second at 86.06 lakh, followed by Tamil Nadu (36.99 lakh) and Kerala (32.82 lakh). The Tamil Nadu information commission, however, led in receiving the most number of second appeals and complaints (475,299), followed by Maharashtra (395,354) and the Central Information Commission (343,506).

Upon releasing the report, Transparency International India Director Rama Nath Jha said that "the huge pendency of appeals/complaints" was reflected in the average waiting period of two years at the information commissions.

He added that not only were the commissions "becoming parking lots for retired bureaucrats", the "casual attitude" of PIOs/First Appellate Authority, while rejecting RTI applications was a "major challenge". TII's study revealed that only 11 out of 29 information commissions at the central, state and UT level provide e-filing facility for RTI applications and appeals, of which, only five of these were functional.

It stated that the central government must urgently intervene to improve procedures at the information commissions.

Senior Congress leader Shashi Tharoor is set to become the chairman of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Chemicals and Fertilizers. Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi proposed the name of Tharoor for the post. Curiously the party leadership has proposed Tharoor as chairman of a Parliamentary panel at a time when the diplomat-turned-politician is set to take on Sonia Gandhi's confidante Mallikarjun Kharge in the party presidential election.

Sources said that when the panel post fell vacant, Sonia had checked with party senior leaders including Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury, on whether Tharoor would be willing to take up the same. The leaders in turn consulted Tharoor and confirmed that he had no qualms in this regard. Tharoor was recently removed by the Union Government as chairman of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on IT.

The chairmanship of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Chemicals and Fertilizers is among the very few panels allotted to the Congress party. Senior leader Jairam Ramesh will continue as chairman of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Science and Technology. Another senior leader Abhishek Singhvi will continue as the chairman of Parliamentary Committee on Commerce.

Will follow party principles: Kharge

PATNA: Congress presidential poll candidate Mallikarjun Kharge on Tuesday asserted that the party's 'big' leaders and delegates fielded him in the elections and said that he would carry forward the party's principles if elected to the post. Kharge reached the state capital to seek the support of Congress delegates and later told newsmen at the state party headquarters, Sadaqat Ashram, that the agenda fixed by Congress leaders in Udaipur this year would be his election manifesto. He said that it was decided to give 50 per cent seats to youths. "I will implement the decisions taken at the Udaipur convention," he added. ENS

In Bihar, Shah takes a jibe at 'power hungry' JP followers

Says Modi govt has worked for total revolution as visualised by JP

RAMASHANKAR

@ Sitab Diara (Chhapra-Bihar)

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday launched a broadside against Nitish Kumar, saying the Bihar chief minister has not followed the principles of socialist leader Jayaprakash Narayan as he (Nitish) switched sides five times to gain power.

Shah unveiled a statue of JP at his native place at Sitab Diara in Saran district on the occasion of the late leader's 120th birth anniversary. Without taking Nitish's name, he said, "JP had no lust for power but his disciples occupied Congress' lap for the sake of power. The socialist veteran had fought against the Congress throughout his life."

Shah added: "Some politicians took the names of Ram Manohar Lohia and JP, but they partnered with Congress by deviating from the path shown by them and compromised with JP's principles."

Stressing that the Narendra Modi government worked for the success of "total revolution" as visualised by JP, he accused the Congress of not doing anything in this regard.

Shah heaped praise on JP, and said that while the leader participated in the Independence struggle and also worked with Vinoba Bhave, his biggest contribution was his movement against the Emergency imposed by former prime minister Indira Gandhi.

Shah said, "JP worked for the landless, Dalits, backward classes, and socialism."

He recalled that the students' movement in Gujarat in 1973 had led to the dislodging of the then Chimanbhai Patel-led Congress government and subsequently a students' movement was launched in Bihar too under JP's leadership.

"The speech made by JP in Gandhi Maidan (in Patna) made Indira Gandhi jittery," Shah said. He recounted the days of Emergency when several leaders, including Atal Bihari Vajpayee, LK Advani, Morarji Desai and JP himself, were put behind bars.

"But JP, who had managed to escape from Hazaribagh jail in 1942 could not be intimidated as he brought the Opposition together, and the first non-Congress government was formed with the participation of the then Bharatiya Jan Sangh," he added at the event, which was also attended by UP CM Yogi Adityanath; Bihar BJP president Sanjay Jaiswal; Union ministers Nityanand Rai and Ashwani Choubey, and others.

In Gujarat, PM slams Oppn on actions against corrupt

THOSE who have looted India will have to return what they have seized, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday in Gujarat's Jamkandor na town of Rajkot district.

Addressing a rally ahead of the state Assembly polls due this year-end, Modi added that those who don't respect Sardar Patel should have no place in Gujarat. He also responded to the accusations of the Opposition over misuse of central agencies, saying, "If the government takes action against corrupt people, they defame government institutions. Whatever they have looted has to be returned to this country."

He added: "If the government acts against the corrupt, a group shouts against us. Should I not act against those involved in looting people? I continue to work despite criticism. I have your blessings."

The PM also asked BJP workers and supporters to be aware that the Congress has stopped abusing him and is "working silently" to capture rural votes.

"The Congress seems inactive in Gujarat, but it is silently organising group meetings in villages. We need to remain alert even if they do not do rallies, sabhas or press conferences. I know this as it's being controlled by those who are known to conspire against Gujarat from Delhi," Modi said.

He also hit out at being defamed by the Opposition. "They have suddenly gone silent. They have outsourced the contract of creating a ruckus and abusing me to others," Modi said. "In the last 20 years, those who were against Gujarat left no stone unturned to defame the state. They hurled choicest abuses against me, including calling me 'Maut ka saudagar'."

He also recalled how his journey started from Rajkot. Modi won his first election as an MLA from Rajkot (west) seat in 2002.

'Two swords & a shield' symbol for Shinde camp for Andheri East bypoll

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BALASAHEBANCHI Shiv Sena, the faction of the Shiv Sena led by Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde was on Tuesday allotted the Do Talwarein aur Ek Dhal (two swords and a shield) symbol by the Election Commission for the upcoming bypolls, and until further order. The Shinde group had submitted three new symbols on Tuesday after its earlier alternatives were rejected by the EC.

The 'two swords and a shield' symbol was previously reserved for People's Democratic Movement (deregognised in 2004). Shinde's party had submitted 'Sun, Surya, Sooraj and Dhal Talwar' as options, which were rejected.

The order issued by the poll panel on Tuesday said that the Sun, Surya or Sooraj symbol resembles the other emblems 'Sun' (without rays) and 'Rising Sun' of the political parties, Zoram Nationalist Party, recognised in Mizoram, and Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam, which is also a recognised party in Tamil Nadu and Puducherry.

On Monday, the EC approved ShivSena (Balasaheb Thackeray) as the name for the faction of Shiv Sena led by Uddhav Thackeray while the rival group led by Shinde was given the title Balasahebanchi Shiv Sena. The Uddhav group was also allotted the symbol 'Flaming Torch' to be used by its candidate in the upcoming bypoll.

The EC refused to assign the alternative symbols of Trishul, Rising Sun or Gada (mace) to Shinde camp as requested. While turning down their submission, the Commission said that both Trishul and Mace have religious connotations.

On Saturday, the EC asked both the parties to suggest three names for their groups, and also to choose three symbols from the list of free symbols. The Uddhav as well as Shinde groups had given Trishul and Rising Sun as their first two choices for election symbols but both the options were rejected.

The EC on Saturday freed Shiv Sena's symbol 'Bow and Arrow' and barred the two rival groups from using the party name and its election symbol in the Andheri East assembly bypoll. The order had come after the group led by Shinde approached the EC to stake claim over the party's election symbol in view of the bypoll.

On Monday, the EC approved ShivSena (Balasaheb Thackeray) as the name for the fac-

Kin join search ops for missing Everest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

A fifteen-member team of local mountaineers, family members and porters left for Mount Kyarisatam near the India-China border in Arunachal Pradesh to conduct a search operation for missing Everest Tapi Mra and his assistant Niku Dao.

The operation was delayed by weeks due to "hurdles" created allegedly by East Kameng district administration.

The team left district headquarters Seppa on October 7 and when reports last came in, it reached Yarchum - the confluence of Kameng and Wapriyang Bung rivers. Mount Kyarisatam is not far off from the place.

Mra and Dao were reported missing in mid-August after they had embarked on scaling Mount Kyarisatam, the state's highest mountain peak located at an altitude of 6,890 metres.

A ground search and rescue operation, carried out by the Army along with two local mountaineers in September, had to be called off mid-way due to inclement weather.

The families of the two missing persons had met Chief Minister Pema Khandu on September 23 and sought his help for a fresh search operation.

After Partha, 2nd TMC MLA in ED net in teacher recruitment scam

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

TRINAMOLU Congress MLA and former chairman of West Bengal Board of Primary Education, Manik Bhattacharya, was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Tuesday in connection with alleged irregularities in recruitment of teachers in primary schools. Bhattacharya was arrested after being interrogated for 10 hours at the central agency's office at Nizam Palace.

"Bhattacharya was not cooperating with the investigators. He also tried to mislead the sleuths during the interrogation," said an ED official. The Palashipara MLA was produced at Bankshall court, where the ED sought his custody for interrogation.

Bhattacharya was earlier questioned by the CBI. The ED is tracking the money trail in the alleged scam while the CBI is looking into the irregularities said to have been committed in the recruitment.

In July, the ED arrested former minister and TMC's secretary general Partha Chatterjee over the alleged irregularities in recruitment in primary and high schools through the School Service Commission. The Calcutta High Court had directed a probe by the central agencies into allegations that jobs were given in exchange for money.

C'garh: 3 IAS officers raided

RAIPUR: ED teams on Tuesday carried out extensive raids at over 12 locations of senior Chhattisgarh government officials, including the deputy secretary in the chief minister office. Sources privy to the matter said that the raids began at around 6am at multiple premises in districts of Raipur, Durg, Korba and Mahasamund. Indications are that there are alleged cases related to money laundering and/or disproportionate assets. However, there was no official confirmation from the ED that it had raided the official residences of three IAS officers and the deputy secretary to the CM.

"Bhattacharya's name figured in the chargesheet filed against Chatterjee. We have come across evidences that indicate Bhattacharya's involvement in the recruitment irregularities," said another ED official.

The others arrested in the recruitment scam by the ED and CBI are former chairperson of West Bengal Board of Secondary Education Kalyanmoy Ganguly, former SSC chairperson

During the searches at his Purnia residence, the raiding teams recovered ₹2.96 lakh cash and gold jewellery worth ₹28 lakh. The scam allegedly involved jobs given to many below-par candidates in exchange of lakhs of rupees while the eligible candidates were overlooked.

MAHAKAL CORRIDOR BREAKS MORE SHACKLES OF COLONIALISM: MODI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

IT was early Diwali in Madhya Pradesh's temple city of Ujjain as Prime Minister Narendra Modi unveiled the first phase of the Mahakal Temple Corridor project on Tuesday evening.

The lit-up 946 metre corridor is expected to double the annual pilgrim footfall at the shrine, which at present is around 1.5 crore. The cost of the first phase of the project is ₹351 crore.

Addressing a public gathering after the event, Modi described the project as a continuation of initiatives during Azadi Ka Amrit Kal to re-establish the cultural glory of the country. "Developing the grandeur of Jyotirlingas means developing India's spiritual radiance, knowledge and philosophy, as Shiva is knowledge and knowledge is Shiva," he added.

Today cultural destinations across the country are witnessing all round development. While the grand Ram Temple construction is underway in Ayodhya, the Kashi Vishwanath Dham Corridor is adding to the glory of the country's cultural capital. New chapters of development are also being scripted at Somnath in Gujarat and Kedarnath and Badrinath in Uttarakhand," Modi said.

Pointing out that Ujjain is a top centre of astrological research, Modi said, "In New India, the country stands equal with big powers in the sphere of astronomy."

While maintaining that innovation and renovation happen together, the PM said, "Whatever was lost in the era of slavery/colonialism is being renovated now. India is re-establishing its pride. This will benefit the entire world and humanity."

How MSY brought Chambal dacoits to their knees

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

SAMAJWADI Party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav was a man of conviction. As chief minister, he never hesitated in taking harsh measures against kar sewaks to save the disputed structure in Ayodhya in 1990 or in issuing the release order for 'bandit queen' Phoolan Devi, withdrawing all 55 criminal cases lodged against her in 1994. He was also instrumental in keeping central UP free from gangs of dacoits.

Mulayam's decision to withdraw cases against Phoolan shocked the nation. Yet, he decided to field her as the party candidate from Mirzapur in the 1996 Lok Sabha election.

Phoolan had shot to notoriety when she along with her gang of 35 dacoits massacred 22 Thakurs of Behmai village in Kanpur Dehat on February 14, 1981. Two years after the massacre, Phoolan and 25 members of her gang surrendered in Bhind district of Madhya Pradesh on February 12, 1984. After spending around nine-odd years in Gwalior Central

A ministerial tiff that led to creation of U'khand

Dehradun: It was the result of an ideological confrontation between then defence minister Mulayam Singh Yadav and former PM Chandra Shekhar that led to the creation of a separate Uttarakhand. Chandra Shekhar was not in favour of small states at all, due to which Mulayam Singh left the Samajwadi Janata Party led by Chandra Shekhar and formed the Samajwadi Party. "The concept and foundation of the formation of the Samajwadi Party was laid in Dehradun itself," said Suryakant Dhasmana, senior vice-president of the state Congress, the then chairman of the drafting committee of the Vinod Barthwal committee. Jail, Phoolan was shifted to Tihar in October 1993.

Mulayam's sympathy with Phoolan whose surrender was negotiated by the then Madhya Pradesh CM Arjun Singh on the directives of PM Indira Gandhi took the entire nation by storm. He was given coverage by The New York Times over his decision.

However, despite all the criticism, Mulayam remained firm on his decision which was later struck down by the court. The former dacoit queen was released on parole by the Supreme Court and went on to win Mirzapur polls as an SP candidate in 1996. "Mulayam had promoted Phoolan not only to foil an equally belligerent Mayawati as his party's honeymoon with the BSP had ended on a bitter note in 1995, but also to woo the Mallah-Kachchi-Kewat (boatmen) votes," says Prof AK Mishra, a political scientist.

Moreover, the SP patriarch is also known to have played a crucial role in ridding the ravines of Chambal and Yamuna, spread across central UP, from the reign of terror of dacoits. Mulayam, in collaboration with the MP government, had been instrumental in the elimination of at least a dozen known dacoits active in the ravines of Etawah.

Auraiya, Jalaun districts of UP and Bhind, Gwalior and Muraina of Madhya Pradesh. Mulayam's approach as UP CM towards the issue in the 90s led at least 50 dacoits to surrender in UP and MP jointly.

The drive against dacoits active in the Chambal ravines continued vigorously during Mulayam's last tenure as the UP CM between 2003 and 2007.

Mulayam, who belonged to Saifai in western Uttar Pradesh's Etawah district, had seen dacoits operating with impunity in the central UP since his childhood.

Former Inspector Ramnath Yadav recalls that in 2004, dacoits had come to depend mainly on abductions for heavy ransom. They had abducted a Kanpur-based doctor and took him to Beehad.

"Mulayam called up the then Etawah SSP Akhilesh Mehrotra and ordered a vigorous campaign for the elimination of dacoits present in the area," said Ramnath Yadav

London Eye-like ferris wheel at Dal Lake soon

With the Valley recording highest-ever tourist footfall so far this year, the government is likely to install "Srinagar Eye" - a giant ferris wheel - at the world-famous Dal Lake on the lines of the famous "London Eye". The location has also been shortlisted for the installation. The authorities are hopeful that it would be an added attraction for tourists visiting the picturesque Valley. Apart from the Mughal gardens, Tulip garden and Dal Lake, now the "Srinagar Eye" in Dal Lake would add to the attraction for the tourists. The London Eye, or the Millennium Wheel, is a cantilevered observation wheel on the South Bank of the River Thames in London.

G7 unites against Putin, blame him for Kyiv strikes

Locals urged not to leave their shelter after second day of attacks

BERLIN

WORLD powers said on Tuesday after talks on Ukraine with President Volodymyr Zelensky that they would hold Russian leader Vladimir Putin responsible for recent widespread aerial strikes on cities including Kyiv.

"We condemn these attacks in the strongest possible terms and recall that indiscriminate attacks on innocent civilian populations constitute a war crime," the G7 said in a statement after a video conference.

"We will hold President Putin and those responsible to account."

In a week of marked escalation in the war, the leaders said that Belarusian President Alexander Lukashenko's announced plan to deploy joint forces with Russia constituted a new instance of 'complicity' with Moscow, warning Minsk to 'stop enabling' Putin's invasion.

They urged the "Lukashenko regime to fully abide by its obligations under international law." The group of wealthy democracies said it had 're-sured' Zelensky that they were "undeterred and steadfast in our commitment to providing the support Ukraine needs to uphold its sovereignty and territorial integrity."

"They pledged continued "financial, humanitarian, military, diplomatic and legal support" and vowed to "stand firmly with Ukraine for as long as it takes".

"We are committed to supporting Ukraine in meeting its winter preparedness needs," they added.

Meanwhile, officials in different parts of Ukraine have reported explosions, drone strikes and missile strikes by Russian forces for the second consecutive day. Lviv governor Maksym Kozmitskyi said three explosions shook two energy facilities in the region on Tuesday. He wrote on Telegram that it wasn't immediately clear if there were any casualties there. There were reports of new power outages in Lviv only hours after it had been restored after Monday's attacks. Agencies

India votes to reject Russia's demand for ballot at UNGA

UNITED NATIONS

INDIA voted to reject Russia's demand for a secret ballot in the UN General Assembly on a draft resolution to condemn Moscow's 'illegal' annexation of four regions of Ukraine, with New Delhi favouring a public vote on the text along with over 100 other nations. The 193-member UN General Assembly voted on a motion by Albania that action on the draft resolution that would condemn Russia's 'illegal so-called referendums' and 'attempted illegal annexation' of the Donetsk, Kherson, Luhansk, and Zaporizhzhia regions of Ukraine be taken by a recorded vote. Russia had demanded that the resolution be voted upon by secret ballot. Moscow's demand for a secret ballot was rejected after 107 UN member states, including India, voted in favour of a recorded vote. Only 13 nations voted in favour of Russia's call for a secret ballot while 39 abstained. Russia and China were among the countries that did not vote.

After the motion to hold a recorded vote was adopted, Russia appealed against the ruling of the president of the general assembly. A recorded vote on Russia's appeal was held and India was among the 100 nations who voted against the challenge made by Moscow.

Russia then sought reconsideration of the decision to adopt the motion submitted by Albania for a recorded vote. PTI

Bank of England does more to stem slide in economy

LONDON

THE Bank of England on Tuesday expanded its emergency effort to quash upheaval on financial markets unleashed by the government's plan to slash taxes, saying fluctuations in bond prices posed a 'material risk' to UK's fiscal stability.

The UK central bank said it will now buy inflation-linked securities which offer protection from inflation as well as conventional government bonds as it seeks to 'restore orderly conditions' in the market. Purchases will total up to $11 billion a day split evenly between both types of bonds, and the programme will end Friday.

day as originally planned.

The bank broadened the programme after yields on government bonds jumped again Monday, returning to the levels reached immediately after the government last month announced plans for wide-ranging tax cuts without saying how it would pay for them.

The bond-buying programme addresses concerns on the so-called secondary market, where investors trade bonds previously purchased from the government. Bond prices tend to fall as concerns about a borrower's ability to repay its debts increase. This pushes the yield—or the return investors realise on their money—higher because they receive the same interest rate on a smaller investment.

Investors are concerned that the government's plans will lead to high levels of debt and fuel further inflation, which is already running at a near 40-year high of 9.9%. The Institute for Fiscal Studies, an independent think tank, said that stabilising government debt levels will require 'difficult decisions' on a combination of spending cuts and tax increases.

Pension funds have been particularly hard hit by the turmoil over government spending priorities, with some being forced to sell bonds to cover payment obligations. AP

After 4 years, Malala arrives in Pak to meet flood-hit victims

KARACHI: Nobel laureate Malala Yousafzai arrived in Pakistan on Tuesday, her first visit to her home country in more than four years, to inspect regions hit by the cataclysmic floods and meet flood-hit victims. Her visit aims "to help keep international attention focused on the impact of floods in Pakistan and reinforce the need for critical humanitarian aid," her non-profit organisation, Malala Fund, said in a statement. More than 1,700 people were killed, 33 million displaced and a third of the country was submerged under water in the worst floods to hit Pakistan, brought about by unprecedented rains since mid-June. FIA books Imran for receiving illegal funds

Islamabad: Pakistan's ousted prime minister Imran Khan and other senior leaders of his Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) were booked by the Federal Investigation Agency (FIA) on Tuesday for allegedly receiving prohibited funding from abroad. The case was filed by the state through FIA's Corporate Banking Circle in Islamabad. As per the FIR, Arif Masood Naqvi, who is the owner of the Wooton Cricket Ltd, transferred 'ill-gotten' money to a bank account registered under the name of PTI, the Dawn reported.

Pakistan to buy over 6 million mosquito nets from India?

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S health ministry on Tuesday approved the purchase of over 6 million mosquito nets from India, as it scrambles to contain the spread of malaria and other vector-borne diseases due to the unprecedented floods, as per a media report on Tuesday.

The World Health Organisation is using financial resources provided by Global Fund to acquire the nets for Pakistan, as per Geo.tv.

The WHO officials said they are planning to obtain mosquito nets as early as possible and are hopeful that these would be obtained by next month via the Wagah route. More than 1,700 people were killed, 33 million displaced and a third of the country was submerged under water in the worst floods to hit Pakistan.

In September, the World Health Organisation (WHO) warned that a surge in diseases like malaria can cause a 'second disaster.' Last week, the WHO warned of 2.7 million malaria cases in 32 districts in flood-hit Pakistan by January 2023.

Pakistan's health ministry had sought permission to procure mosquito nets from India last month, the report said. PTI

INFY BUYBACK PRICE MAY COME AT 25% PREMIUM

Proposal to be taken up tomorrow; it will be the IT firm's 4th buyback

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

IT major Infosys, which will announce its second quarterly results on October 13, said it will consider a proposal for buyback of fully paid-up equity shares of the company at its meeting on Thursday.

This will be the company's fourth buyback in the last five years. Brokerages expect this buyback might come at over 25% premium.

Piyush Pandey, Lead Analyst - Institutional Equities, YES SECURITIES, said, "Revenue growth outlook has moderated as clients have become cautious, this buyback is better use of surplus cash lying on books. It should limit downside to stock price in the near term. The buyback price is expected to be at a significant premium to CMP."

Recently, brokerage firm Jefferies in its Indian IT Q2 results preview said there might be potential buyback for Infosys. It expects the IT company to lead on growth among large-sized firms. In September 2021, the IT major completed its latest buyback of 55.8 million shares worth ₹9,200 crore. Its previous buybacks were in 2017 for ₹13,000 crore and in 2019 for ₹8,260 crore. In January this year, IT company TCS announced an ₹18,000 crore buyback, and it completed its fourth buyback in five years.

Market falls 1.5% on geopolitical turmoil, weak global market

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S equity market failed to withstand global pressure as benchmark indices - Sensex and Nifty - cracked over 1% during the last 75 minutes of Tuesday's trading session.

The Sensex fell nearly 850 points, or 1.46%, to close at 57,147 points, while the Nifty50 shed around 250 points, or 1.49%, to end below 17,000, at 16,983.

The fall is attributed to investors' reluctance to bet big on Indian market due to rising geopolitical turmoil, weak global market, US Federal Reserve's hawkish stance on rate hikes to control inflation and slowdown in global economic growth. Major Asian stock exchanges like Japan's Nikkei 225 and Hang Seng China Enterprises Index fell 2.6%.

Investors have also gone into cautious mode ahead of domestic retail inflation data announcement, which as per some estimates is expected to remain over 7% for the month of September. "There is pessimism in the markets as weak global economic outlook along with the pressing geo-political tension and the dangling rate hike worries has given investors the ammunition to exit equities at will," said Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (retail), Kotak Securities. Foreign institutional investors' exodus from the local market surged on Tuesday as they offloaded shares worth ₹4,613 crore. Kotak, in a recent

OECD creates global tax transparency framework

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) has created a new global tax transparency framework for the automatic exchange of information related to crypto assets between countries.

The framework named Crypto-to-Asset Reporting Framework (CARF) would make it possible for countries to track the cross-border transfer of crypto assets.

According to the OECD statement, CARF will be presented to G20 Finance Ministers this week in Washington DC. The G20 had in April 2021 had mandated the OECD to develop a framework for the automatic exchange of tax-relevant information on crypto assets.

Sudhir Kapadia, Partner, tax & regulatory services, EY India, said, "Regulators and tax authorities around the world have been grappling with the burning question of tracking, regulating and taxing crypto transactions given the proliferation and increasing dispersion of this form of exchange. While some forward-looking countries have spotted an opportunity to attract crypto entrepreneurs to set up a base by providing an enabling environment for crypto operations, other countries have been more concerned about the potential misuse of crypto assets to fuel money laundering and prohibited end uses."

VIETNAM

ECONOMY SEEN GROWING 8% IN 2022

Vietnam's economy is expected to grow 8% this year, beating an official target for an expansion of 6.0%-6.5%, the government said on Tuesday. The country's exports are forecast to rise 9.5% to $368 billion in the year, the government said in a statement, adding that its foreign direct investment inflows are seen rising 6.4%-11.5% to $21 billion-$22 billion. Vietnam, a regional manufacturing hub, has seen its economy rebounding from the pandemic, with gross domestic product in the third quarter growing 13.67% from a year earlier. The government said it will pursue "a flexible and prudent" monetary policy during the rest of the year to ensure macroeconomic stability. Vietnam will aim for a growth of 6.5% and will consider an inflation target of 4.5% next year, the government said. Vietnamese businesses are expected to face headwinds from inflation, tightening monetary policy and a growing cost-of-living crisis in many of the country's export markets, experts have warned. A global slowdown seems imminent as central banks embark on the highest round of interest rate hikes in decades to tackle rising inflation, they said.

THAILAND

CENTRAL BANK SEES INFLATION AT 3.9% OVER 12 MONTHS

Thailand's central bank expects average inflation at 3.9% over the next 12 months and to remain above the monetary policy target range, the Bank of Thailand said in an open letter to the finance ministry. Meanwhile, Thailand's baht opened at 37.60 to the US dollar on Monday, hitting a 26-year low. Market strategist Poon Panichpibool at the bank Krungthai, as cited by The Nation newspaper, predicted the currency would likely move between 37.20 and 37.90 during the week. Poon said that the fluctuating baht might weaken to near its resistance level between 37.80 to 37.90 if the market remains in a risk-off state over concern of another US Federal Reserve rate hike and the falling gold price. He advised monitoring inflows to Thailand after a slowdown in selloffs of Thai assets by foreign investors helped curb the baht's weakening. He added that the dollar could continue to strengthen and advised close monitoring of US inflation via the latest consumer price index.

SRI LANKA

REQUESTS WORLD BANK TO GRANT CONCESSIONAL LOANS

Sri Lanka will remain a middle-income country but request the World Bank to grant it some loans generally offered to poorer nations, the president's office said on Tuesday, clarifying a cabinet spokesperson's earlier comments on the matter. The island nation of 22 million is facing its worst economic crisis in more than seven decades and the spokesperson said earlier in the day that the government would seek to change its economic status to "low income country" for easier funding. President Ranil Wickremesinghe's office, however, said the status change would not happen. "Sri Lanka will remain a middle-income country," the office said in a statement. "We will request the World Bank to grant the country eligibility to obtain loans offered by the International Development Association (IDA)." The IDA is an arm of the World Bank that helps the world's poorest countries with the aim of reducing poverty by providing zero to low-interest loans and grants. The local World Bank office in Colombo had no immediate comment on the Sri Lankan request. It said it would continue its discussions with Sri Lanka and that the "key priority" was to move ahead with debt restructuring and economic reforms to put the country's growth back on track.

Minimum capital requirement to set up ARCs raised

MUMBAI: The Reserve Bank of India on Tuesday raised the minimum capital requirement for setting up an asset reconstruction company (ARC) to Rs 300 crore, from the existing Rs 100 crore, with an aim to strengthen the securitisation sector, which plays a vital role in the management of distressed financial assets.

The existing ARCs have been given a glide path to meet the minimum net-owned fund (NOF) requirement till April 2026, the RBI said in a circular, amending the existing regulatory framework for such entities.

"Consequently, any ARC obtaining the certificate of registration on or after the date of this circular shall not commence the business of securitisation or asset reconstruction without having minimum NOF of Rs 300 crore," the circular said, adding the guidelines are effective immediately.

Under the earlier guidelines, each ARC was required to frame a board-approved policy laying down the broad parameters for settlement of debts due from the borrowers.

Further, the board was permitted to delegate powers to a committee comprising any director and/or functionaries of the ARC for taking decisions on the proposals for settlement of dues.

Upon review, the RBI said the guidelines for the reconstruction of financial assets through settlement of dues payable by the borrowers have been modified.

"Settlement of dues with the borrower shall be done only after the proposal is examined by an Independent Advisory Committee (IAC) which shall consist of professionals having technical/finance/legal background," it said.

IAC, after assessing the financial position of the borrower, the time frame available for recovery of the dues, projected earnings and cash flows of the borrower and other relevant aspects, shall give its recommendations to the ARC regarding settlement of dues with the borrower. PTI

CHINESE electric vehicle maker BYD launched premium electric SUV, BYD-ATTO 3, in India on Tuesday. This marks BYD's official entry into the Indian passenger vehicle (PV) market.

The company has opened Atto 3 bookings for a token amount of ₹50,000 and its price will be announced next month. The deliveries of the first 500 units of the SUV will commence from January onwards.

Currently, the billionaire investor Warren Buffet-backed automaker BYD sells e6 electric MPV, primarily to commercial fleet operators. BYD claims its SUV is equipped with the ultra-safe Blade Battery and the born EV platform (e-Platform 3.0). BYD-ATTO 3 features fast charging from 0% to 80% within 50 mins and a range of 521 km, as per ARAI tests, with a higher battery capacity of 60.48kWh, and a 0-100km/h acceleration time of 7.3 seconds. Ketsu Zhang, executive director of BYD India, said they intend to sell 15,000 units of BYD-ATTO 3 in India over the next year and plan to set up a local manufacturing facility in due course. Online shopper base to touch 450 million by 2027

@ Bengaluru

THE country's online shopper base will increase to 400-450 million by 2027 and most of these shoppers are already in the digital funnel, said a new report by Bain & Company.

Last year alone, 40-50 million new shoppers were added to the India e-retail market, which is nearly 30%-35% growth over the online shopper base in 2020. India has the third-largest shopper base globally, and it might surpass the US to have the second-largest shopper base in the next 1-2 years, the report said. There were 190 million online shoppers in 2021.

Flipkart, which recently concluded The Big Billion Days (TBBDD), said it recorded over 1 billion customer visits during the festive season and 35 million app downloads in the run-up to the festive sale. Amazon and Meesho too recorded maximum sales from tier 2 cities and beyond.

The new report also stated that new shoppers largely belong to tier 3 or smaller cities and include Gen Z, as they will become a critical cohort in the future. They primarily purchase fashion as the first category online, and they typically start buying at entry price points. Meesho said the top-selling categories included fashion, home & kitchen, electronic accessories and beauty & personal care in its recently concluded festive sale. For Meesho, nearly 60% of orders came from tier 4+ cities. Also, the country's online seller base has grown 35% annually over the past year, with about 40% of new sellers coming from tier 2 or smaller cities. The report said the country's e-retail market is estimated to increase to $150-$170 billion by 2027. This implies 25-30% annual growth and doubling of market penetration to 9-10% over the next five years. It said tech-led innovation will take centre stage in the future of e-retail growth. Many e-commerce players are already utilising technology like augmented/virtual reality and AI-based product demos to deliver an upgraded customer experience to shoppers.

It has ₹3,272 crore debt on its books. While addressing a virtual press conference, Suzlon Energy chief financial officer (CFO) Himanshu Mody said the firm would be able to pare its debt by ₹583.5 crore if its rights issue of ₹1,200 gets fully subscribed. He said the firm will be able to repay rest of debt in the next eight years. "Suzlon Energy... has opened its rights issue to raise up to ₹1,200 crore on October 11, 2022. The entitlement ratio for the rights issue is 5:21 (five shares for every twenty one equity shares held by eligible shareholders of the company, as on the record date of October 4, 2022)," said the company in a statement.

Super mom Sandhya's juggling act

From C-section last year to K2 bronze in Ahmedabad, kayaker from A&N Islands defies odds

FIROZ MIRZA @ Ahmedabad

SANDHYA Kispotta had a baby boy through C-section in September last year. She was a busy mom taking care of a little Sarvin Johnson when the 2022 National Games were announced. A junior teacher at Andaman and Nicobar Islands, she was already juggling between school and home duties when the announcement made her make a decision. By then she had competed in three National Games (2007, 2011 and 2015) and won 4 gold, 3 silver and 4 bronze in sprint kayaking.

The 35-year-old Sandhya has been a partner with Rajina Kiro, the kayaking legend from the islands, for more than 15 years and was desperate to take a plunge into competitive kayaking after a gap of two years.

"I competed in the 2020 National Championships and won three gold and two silver but was not expecting the National Games to happen this year. The announcement made me speak to my husband Johnson Mangra and other family members," Sandhya, who bagged a K2 500m bronze at the ongoing Games at Sabarmati Riverfront, Ahmedabad, told this newspaper.

The couple then spoke to the doctor, who gave them a nod but also cautioned them to

tread carefully. "The doctor said I can compete but the progress should be gradual. I should not start heavy lifting, running and paddling from Day One. So we started training in July and gradually increased the workload. That one month was good for me to stake a claim in the A&N Islands team for the Games by competing in the Uttarakhand National Championships held in August. I won two gold and as many silver there to earn a spot in the team," Sandhya, who had also competed in K4 event at the 2018 Asian Sandhya was accompanied by her elder sister Sangeeta Kispotta to Uttarakhand. She used to take care of the child when the mother was away competing in water. It was the same here in Ahmedabad as Sangeeta once again shouldered the responsibility with Sandhya's husband Johnson by the side.

As they reached Ahmedabad on October 4, the change in climate meant the one-year-old Sarvin developed a sore throat, cold and cough. "We met the doctor as he had a sore throat, fever, cold and cough. All of us including Sandhya used to stay awake. I understand it's difficult for her but despite that she won a medal and kept her record intact at the National Games," said Johnson.

Sandhya used to train for two hours each in the morning and evening ahead of the Games. The timings only increased once she reached the Games venue. But her husband and sister ensured that she stayed focussed by taking care of the toddler. "She needs proper sleep for a better recovery. Unfortunately that was not possible with the boy only being a year old. Sarvin used to stay at the hotel with her sister while I used to accompany her to the venue. She used to rush to the hotel soon after the training session and race," Johnson said.

Given her decision to keep competing, Sandhya might have faced a lot of hardships. She, however, is not yet ready to give up paddling, at least in the immediate future. "I have heard that the next Games are scheduled in Goa in 2023. I will try my best to compete there. I will keep training to stay fit. By then my son will be a year older so hopefully we (including husband and sister) will face less difficulty in handling him," Sandhya signed off.

Promising Minakshi attracting job offers with prowess inside the ring

FIROZ MIRZA @ Gandhinagar

THERE was a time when boxer Minakshi Hooda's father Shri Krishnan, an auto-rickshaw driver, used to earn just ₹200 in a day. With his daughter dreaming to be a boxer, he used to allocate ₹100 specifically for her while the rest of the family comprising five members had to manage with the remaining amount.

The struggle continued for years but none of them complained. Hailing from Rurki village in Rohtak district of Haryana, Minakshi started training at the local academy in 2013 under coach Vijay Hooda. Four years of hard work saw Minakshi landing her first sub-junior gold in 2017. She then went on to finish on top of the podium at the inaugural Khelo India School Games next year. The medal gave her the much-needed recognition and rewards followed in the following years.

Given her consistency in the national competitions, she got a job of a constable at ITBP (Indo-Tibetan Border Police). And on Tuesday even as she entered the warm-up arena after winning her 52kg semifinal bout, officials from Services Sports Control Board (SSCB) were waiting for her with a job offer. "Yes, she has an offer from Services. Even the Haryana government has offered her a post of junior coach. Indian Railways too has come up with a good deal. However, our immediate target is Asian Championships scheduled to begin in Amman, Jordan at the end of this month. Once she performs well there, then we will assess which employer gives her the best training facility and we will decide accordingly," coach Hooda, who accompanied Minakshi to Gandhinagar for the ongoing 2022 National Games, said.

The national championship silver medalist Minakshi defeated Rashi Sharma of Uttar Pradesh 5-0 by unanimous verdict in the last-four clash and will be up against Shobhja Kohli of Uttarakhand in the final on Wednesday at the Mahatma Mandir in Gandhinagar. In order to make her debut at the event memorable, the 21-year-old Haryana boxer doesn't want anything lesser than gold. "It's my first National Games and I want to pocket gold. Once it is done, then I will take a 2-3 days break before joining the national camp to prepare for the Asian Championships," she said. Speaking on his ward's struggle, coach Hooda said, "Usually athletes train in the morning and evening but Minakshi trains thrice in a day. She trains for nine hours a day. In the beginning, she didn't have the financial might to fund her requirement for supplement. She reached this level by eating chapati and drinking milk."

Youngest among the four siblings (she has two sisters and a brother), Minakshi said her parents never had any objection but admitted that neighbours and relatives used to question her decision.

Given her weight category, Minakshi has faced reigning world champion Nikhat Zareen a few times but without success. She, however, believes she is still learning and will only improve with more exposure. "The Olympics and other events are still far away. Asian Championships is next and I want to win a medal there. The most important thing is learning from every bout. Even at the national camp, I am learning new things everyday."

Chhattisgarh shock Tamil Nadu

AGENCIES/ENS @ Jaipur/Chennai

DELHI made the first and smart use of the 'Impact Player' option to outplay Manipur by 17 runs in their opening match of the Syed Mushtaq Ali T20 Trophy here on Tuesday. Defending champions Tamil Nadu started the campaign on a disappointing note, losing to Chhattisgarh by six runs.

Opener Hiten Dalal smashed a run-a-ball 27 to push Delhi to 167 for seven. The Nitish Rana led squad then decided to replace Dalal with off-spinner Hrithik Shokeen, who took a couple of wickets in his three over spell as Manipur were bundled out for 96 in response.

Impact Player rule allows a team to make a tactical substitution in the middle of the game.

At Lucknow, Tamil Nadu suffered a shock defeat to Chhattisgarh. After an impressive show from the bowlers, who restricted Chhattisgarh to 132/5, the batters failed to finish the job. The top-order started on a cautious note and let the asking rate climb to 9.3 by the 15th over. With pressure mounting with each over, Tamil Nadu kept losing wickets at regular intervals and eventually falling short by 6 runs.

Andhra's game against Saurashtra was abandoned because of rain, while Hyderabad lost to Punjab by 59 runs. Kerala also got off to a winning start. In a rain-curtailed 11-over contest against Arunachal Pradesh, Kerala won by 10 wickets.

Spinners shine to help India clinch ODI series

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

A YOUNG and inexperienced Indian side stunned a strong South Africa unit by seven wickets in third ODI here on Tuesday to secure a memorable series win. The spin trio of Washington Sundar (2/15), Shahbaz Ahmed (2/32) and Kuldeep Yadav (4/18) picked the right lengths on a slow Kotla pitch to bundle out South Africa for 99, their lowest ODI total against

Kuldeep Yadav (L) grabbed four SA wickets on Tuesday | AP

Brief scores: South Africa 99 in 27.1 ovs (Klaasen 34; Kuldeep 4/18) lost to India 105/3 in 19.1 ovs (Gill 49, Shreyas 28 n.o.)

India. The home team batters, led by Shubman Gill (49), chased a paltry 100-run target in 19.1 overs. "The boys showed great character on such tough batting pitches. The bowlers were clinical today," India stand-in ODI skipper Shikhar Dhawan said after the match.

"I am proud of the boys, the way they played in the series. The way they carried the responsibility and showed maturity. Would like to thank the support staff."

The series loss further jeopardised South Africa's chances of a direct qualification for the ODI World Cup next year. Pacer Mohammad Siraj (2/17) too continued his good run to make a strong case for his inclusion in T20 World Cup squad.

While Washington and Shahbaz got wickets up front, left-arm spinner Kuldeep, who missed out on a hat-trick, cleaned up the tail.

The quality of the Indian white-ball squad was on full display in the series as the second-string team came from behind to clinch the three-match series 2-1. Chasing a small total, opener Gill attacked the South African bowlers from the very first ball while Dhawan played second fiddle. The Indians, who looked in a hurry to finish the match, lost a bit of momentum after the wickets of Dhawan, whose woeful run in the series continued as he was run out for eight, and Ishan Kishan (10).

However, Shreyas Iyer (28 not out) continued his stellar run as he whacked three boundaries and two sixes including a match-winning maximum to steer India to victory after Gill was trapped leg before with three runs needed.

Earlier put in to bat, South African batters failed to impress, falling like ninepins.

Barca look to stay in hunt

High-flying Napoli could become one of the first clubs to enter Champions League knockouts on Wednesday while Barcelona face a must-win game. A look...

NAPOLI VS AJAX | 10:15 PM

In-form Napoli have a chance to seal the last 16 spot when they host Ajax, a team they thrashed 6-1 in their last outing. The Italian club, who are unbeaten this season, have been unstoppable so far. In their recent domestic outing, Napoli hammered Cremonese 4-1 to go two points clear on top. For Ajax, this is a must-win tie after two successive defeats.

BARCELONA VS INTER | 12:30 AM (THURSDAY IST)

With Bayern expected to top Group C, only one more team can go through. This match could make all the difference in how the final group table shapes up. Barca's form has dipped a little bit with Robert Lewandowski unable to find his range in the last two outings. He has lacked supply from his teammates and coach Xavi Hernandez will be looking to address that. Inter were highly defensive in their recent 1-0 win at the San Siro and could operate in the same manner at Camp Nou.

OTHER MATCHES

(12:30 AM Thursday IST unless specified): Atletico Madrid vs Club Brugge (10.15 PM); Leverkusen vs Porto; Rangers vs Liverpool; Viktor Plzen vs Bayern; Tottenham vs Eintracht Frankfurt; Sporting vs Marseille.

USA GIRLS OUTPLAY HELPLESS HOSTS IN U-17 WORLD CUP OPENER

TANMAY DAS @ Bhubaneswar

WITH power and speed, the USA women's team outplayed host India 8-0 in the Pool A league match of the FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup at the Kalinga Stadium here on Tuesday. The USA team is considered one of the top contenders in the tournament and the margin of victory was not at all surprising.

The hosts struggled to keep possession and make inroads into the opponent's territory. Possession was USA's and so was the scoreline.

The difference in class was stark and the visitors, though tried hard made no impact on the outcome of the game. Striker Melina Rebimbas not only opened the floodgates in the ninth minute, she also scored another goal in the 31st. Her teammates Charlotte Kohler, Onyekia Gamero and Gisele Thompson joined the goal shower by nailing one each in the 15th, 23rd and 39th minutes, respectively, and USA dominated the first-half with a 5-0 lead.

Debutants India never got a chance to claw back into the back and was outplayed in every department. If the first half was complete dominance, the second half was a stroll for the formidable USA team that is looking to win the World Cup this time. The visitors overpowered the host team by nailing another three goals in the second half. With a powerful header Ella Emri scored the sixth goal for USA in the 51st minutes. To rub salt to the wound, after a rough tackle in the box, the referee awarded a spot kick to USA in the 59th minute. Suarez Taylor made no mistake to score the seventh goal. The goal No 8 was scored by Mia Bhuta. "We are here to win the tournament, I am happy that our team started the World Cup with a big winning margin of 8-0," said USA head coach Astri Natalie.

"I was honoured and excited. We won the match where I had also contributed. India fought well throughout the match, but we are a better team," said Onyekia Gamero, who received player of the match award. India head coach Thomas Dennerby was distraught. "I didn't expect that USA will register so many goals against us," he said. "Congratulations to USA team. Our players were very very nervous on the ground today. We have to forget today's results and go ahead a fresh mind."

Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik officially inaugurated the World Cup in the presence of Minister of Education of India Dharmendra Pradhan, Minister of Youth Affairs and Sports of India Anurag Thakur, FIFA General Secretary Fatma Samoura and AIFF President Kalyan Chaube.

Contenders Brazil post 1-0 victory over Morocco

Title contenders Brazil began their campaign on a winning note with a 1-0 victory over debutants Morocco in a Group A match. Striker Jhonson scored the all-important goal in the fifth minute of the match as the South American champions collected all three points to put themselves in a strong position to make it to the quarterfinals. Morocco, one of the three representatives from Africa, had a good chance to score very early in the match but after that it was Brazil who dominated the match with 65 per cent ball possession. In a Group B match in Margao, Chile got the better of New Zealand 3-1.

Though he considers R Balki his hero, city-based actor Rajeev Ravindranathan reveals that the real reason for him to be part of Chup: Revenge of the Artist, is Sunny Deol

MONIKA MONALISA

RBALKI'S CHUP: Revenge of the Artist is making all the right kind of noise currently at the theatres and city-based actor Rajeev Ravindranathan who is seen in the movie says he is glad many people are liking it. A psycho thriller that stars Dulquer Salmaan, Shreya Dhanwanthary, Pooja Bhat and Sunny Deol in lead.

Ravindranathan plays the role of DPS Srinivas who is an assistant to Sunny Deol's character: who are on the hunt for a 'unique and quirky' serial killer. "I am a very impulsive sort of character. My expressions sort of set the mood in the movie," says he, who likes to describe himself as a 'Bangalore boy who acts in Bombay'. To celebrate the movie he took his family and '20 folks from the office to a housefull theatre'.

Since the movie was directed by Balki, it had already garnered the right kind of attention. And Ravindranathan is also not surprised by it since he believes if you are doing Balki films then they are high concept and wild ideas. "My association with Balki goes back to my advertising days when I went to Lintas for a job as a copy writer and he didn't give me one," laughs Ravindranathan, adding that he considers Balki as his advertising hero. He continues, "then after I met him in English Vinglish, where he was the producer and a very hands-on producer. To keep everyone in the right frame of mind for the film was quite inspiring."

Of many other things that he admires about Balki, it was the director's surety on his concepts that he is in awe of. "His thought and articulation is very strong, I have never met anyone who is so sure at any given point in time, at the same time he is so experimental and trusting of the environment around to try crazy things. He is a genius to me. I emulate him a lot," says Ravindranathan.

While he can go one about the Balki, he reveals one of the most important reasons for him to do the movie is the Sunny Deol. "For me Sunny Deol is the angry young man on screen, he is perpetually the warrior against the bad. Sunny Deol is my original hero. The minute R Balki said I will play an assistant to him, I instantly agreed

Rajeev Ravindranathan, actor

Deol movies have always been on the top of his list. "Hearing stories from him about how my favorite scenes were shot was truly amazing. For me the minute Balki said you will be an assistant to Sunny Deol. I was immediately like yes done," says Ravindranathan. Some of the top Sunny Deol movies on his list are Dacait, Betaab, Arjun, Gayal and Ghatak and the list goes on. "Most of my life, I have been abroad and in the mid '80s every two weeks we had a Sunny Deol film in the theatre. It was like a feast," says Ravindranathan, who would be seen in Netflix's upcoming series Scoop.

INDIA RECENTLY PARTICIPATED IN THE SOCCA WORLD CUP 2022; FOUR PLAYERS FROM BENGALURU, WHO WERE IN THE TEAM, SPEAK WITH CE ABOUT REPRESENTING INDIA ON THE GLOBAL STAGE

TUNIR BISWAS

NDIA'S history with football is one of heartbreaking decline. Once regarded as one of the best footballing nations in the mid-20th century, India now sits uncomfortably in the 104th position as per the latest FIFA rankings. But all is not morbid in our modest footballing nation. In September 2022, India got to take part in the Socca World Cup 2022. Socca is mini-football played in a 6-a-side format, also called futsal in many countries. As the size of the field is smaller, the game is usually a lot faster, with all six players contributing in both attacking and defending. The matches start with kick-ins instead of throw-ins, with no off-side rules, and the goalkeeper regularly floats in during attacks. A quick 20-minute game broken into two halves.

The world cup took place in Budapest, Hungary, with 46 countries, including France, Italy, Brazil, and Belgium, participating in the quest for the Socca World Cup. India finished 5th in their group of 6 teams, and Brazil won the tournament, with Kazakhstan, Poland and Germany finishing second, third and fourth, respectively.

Representing India for the first time

In the Indian team that got to participate in the international tournament, four boys from Bengaluru - Ananth Ganesh (Canadian International School Bangalore), Adithya Buddhan (Delhi Public School, Bangalore South), Jonah Edward (Bishop Cottons), and Rajesh Paterson - were present. For most of them, this was the first time they represented their country in the sport.

"This is the first time I played for my country. I had previously played for all the divisions here in Karnataka. A, B, C, you name it, I've played it. I come from a family of footballers, so it is a matter of great pride for me to be the first person in my kin to play for the Indian team," says Paterson, who plays as a goalkeeper and was the coach for the team as well alongside the primary coach, Raj Kiran, founder of the Indian Football Factory and an international football and futsal player. Outside of football, Paterson is also a professional sprinter.

In one of the matches, these four boys got to play against Kazakhstan, which they won 1-0. Ganesh, who plays as a forward, scored the lone goal in the match. "It was my international goal, and scoring it in a world cup tournament is just as exciting as it sounds. In fact, after it happened, it took a while for me to completely sink in the fact that I scored for my country. Scoring that goal was not just for me and my team, but also for my family and the sacrifices they have made for my footballing career," shares Ganesh, who plans to go to the UK or the US for further studies, to play football at an elite college level since those countries have scouting systems. Kazakhstan, the losing side in that match, were considered to be the surprise team in the tournament as they managed to surpass most other favourites to reach the finals against Brazil, one of the most renowned footballing nations.

Challenges faced and lessons learned

Budhan, the only player among these four to have represented India at an international level before, feels their team needed a lot more training than what they got. "We needed training and a lot more exposure to the international game as our players lacked adequate experience for the global stage. More tournaments should be held for us so every player feels a lot more confident at such competitions," says Budhan, who adds that in his opinion, Brazil, Kazakhstan, Switzerland, Italy, England and France were the toughest teams in that world cup.

"We need more financial support from organisations and more opportunities to play football at a higher level. We have a good team here, but we are in dire need of more support, so that talented players from financially weaker sections of society can also live their dreams. Before the world cup, we also did not get a proper practice session. Some of our players, including me, fell sick before the tournament as well. So there were a lot of challenges to overcome," adds Paterson who is also a Karnataka football referee.

Representing one's nation in any field comes with a large amount of pressure. Some might be battling nerves before they get to battle it out in the field. Edward feels that once he was on the pitch, like the others in his team, the pressure subsided immensely. "Before the match, I found myself wondering what I would do. But I was prepared and looked back on my experiences before to calm myself down. I think the experience we gathered from this tournament would help us in the future. We need to focus more as a team now, and I'm certain we will come back stronger," says Edward, who also plays as a goalkeeper and mentions that the German captain Manuel Neuer is his favourite player.

The Indian team had to face many talented teams, where players were a lot more physically daunting. So how did they manage to compete against 'bigger' players? The four players reiterate that they relied on speed, using creative tactics and playing a smart game to make sure that the difference in physicality didn't end up costing them too much.

THE RARE GANDHI-TAGORE ASSOCIATION COPY

 VR FEROSE

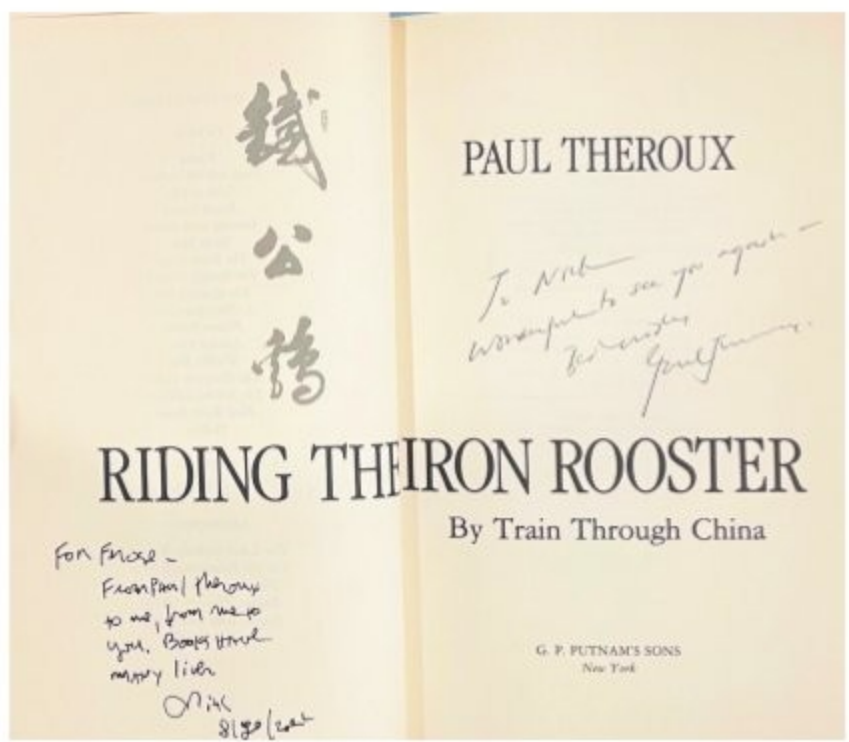

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

ONE of the most expensive books sold on biblio.com in 2021 was an association copy of On Her Majesty's Secret Service signed by Ian Fleming to Hugh Hefner (for $61,000).

For a serious book collector, an association copy is the ultimate prize, especially if it is annotated. Many consider it the pinnacle of book collecting. So, what exactly is an association copy and how is it different from an inscribed copy?

An association copy is a copy of a book which has been signed and inscribed by the author for a personal friend, colleague, or person of historical significance, e.g. Neil Gaiman's American Gods inscribed to Terry Pratchett (the pair wrote Good Omens together). In addition to the signature, the author will generally address the person to whom they are inscribing the book with a salutation and perhaps a personal note. This makes the association copy extremely rare, as it is unique. The more famous the author, the more valuable the copy, e.g. Sunrise with Seamonsters: Travels and Discoveries by Paul Theroux inscribed to V.S. Naipaul: "For Vidia, To mark twenty years of friendship - if you only knew how your good influence has kept me on the straight and narrow, with love, Paul".

Also, a book owned by the book's author (e.g. Isaac Asimov's copy of Foundation) or a book owned by someone involved in the book's production such as the illustrator or publisher (Dan Simmons' Hyperion inscribed to his editor) are examples of a prized association copy. However, if there is no connection between the two people mentioned in the book (e.g. a copy of The Al-

RIDING THE IRON ROOSTER
 By Train Through China

chemist owned by Al Pacino), then it is not an association copy.

While both the association copy and the inscribed book have signatures and inscriptions accompanying them, the difference lies in the association copy being inscribed to a person of social significance or of significance to the author, rather than to a random "Raghu" or "John". Sometimes accompanying materials such as an inlaid letter are necessary to identify and establish the provenance of an association copy claim.

The concept of association copies is rather new in the world of book collecting. It was first addressed from a bibliographic perspective, in both A Primer of Book Collecting (1926) and The Elements of Book Collecting (1927). Since then, there has been growing acceptance of association copies in the trade and among collectors. Serious book collectors find them highly desirable because of their significance in understanding the broader context of the author's work and surrounding period of history, and also because of their comparative scarcity and uniqueness.

Fans boycott author George R.R. Martin's next book over racism

The clouds of worry seem to be hovering over everything related to Game of Thrones. Fans are boycotting the bestselling fantasy series' author George R.R. Martin's upcoming book over allegations of racism, according to reports.

Martin is caught in the crossfire of the heated battle over inclusive casting and some of his fans are calling for a boycott of his upcoming book due to comments by its co-authors.

According to a media report, The Rise of the Dragon: An Illustrated History of the Targaryen Dynasty, Volume One is being touted as a "deluxe reference book" for those itching to learn more about Westeros' most powerful family. When Martin publicised it on social media last week, thousands of fans responded in outrage, many calling out the problematic behaviour and "history of racism" of his coauthors, married couple Linda Antonsson and Elio M. Garcia Jr. The co-authors are fighting back against the accusations. IANS

Jamie Dornan to headline A Haunting In Venice

CE FEATURES

ACTOR-filmmaker Kenneth Branagh's next, A Haunting In Venice, is set to star Tina Fey, Michelle Yeoh, Kyle Allen, Camille Cottin, Jamie Dornan, and Jude Hill.

This project is the next in the Hercule Poirot series, which will have Branagh star as the Belgian sleuth. Branagh has previously starred in and directed Murder on the Orient Express (2017) and Death on the Nile (2022).

Michael Green has adapted the script, which is based on Agatha Christie's novel Hallowe'en Party.

"Set in the post-World War II Venice on All Hallows' Eve, A Haunting in Venice is a terrifying mystery featuring the return of the celebrated sleuth, Hercule Poirot. Now retired and living in self-imposed exile in the world's most glamorous city, Poirot reluctantly attends a seance at a decaying, haunted palazzo. When one of the guests is murdered, the detective is thrust into a sinister world of shadows and secrets," the plotline reads.

Other actors in the film include actors Ali Khan, Emma Laird, Kelly Reilly and Riccardo Scamarcio.

The shooting is currently underway at Pinewood Studios outside of London.

In a statement, Branagh said, "This is a fantastic development of the character Hercule Poirot, as well as the Agatha Christie franchise. Based on a complex, little-known tale of mystery set at Halloween in a pictorially ravishing city, it is an amazing opportunity for us, as filmmakers, and we are relishing the chance to deliver something truly spine-chilling for our loyal movie audiences."

A Haunting in Venice is 20th Century's third film based on a novel by Christie. The movie is backed by Branagh, Green, Judy Hofflund.

'INDIAN MARRIAGES, CULTURES, AND TRADITIONS HAVE ALWAYS MADE FOR A BEAUTIFUL CANVAS'

...says debutant director Santhosh Gopal, who along with the cast -- Meghana Gaonkar, Hitha Chandrashekar, and Rakesh Maiya talk about their upcoming film, Shubhamangala

A still from the film

A SHARADHAA

SHUBHAMANGALA is a common word usually written on wedding cards, or on special occasions. This term is the crux and title of filmmaker Santhosh Gopal's debut directorial, a romantic comedy, which revolves around a wedding.

"Indian marriages, cultures, and traditions have always made for a beautiful canvas, and there are a lot of interesting things to see and observe. But to have a girl going up to the groom-to-be and proposing to him at the marriage hall is a fictional thought that triggered me to say this story, says the director on the sidelines of the film's release on October 14. "Everyone is a hero or the heroine in their own story, and I wanted to bring an unconventional side of a wedding. There are five stories running in parallel and still connected," he says.

For actor Meghana Gaonkar, it was Santhosh's short films that impressed her first even before the narration. "The fact that a girl goes up to the groom, and proposes to him at the wedding hall was an out-of-box idea. I was happy to play that character," says Meghana, who also adds that the five stories of different ages also make for an interesting concept. Actor Hitha Chandrashekar plays a middle-class girl who doesn't have many aspirations in Shubhamangala. While Hitha shares that the character is very unlike her, it is one of the many challenges she has faced in her career: "I have worked in advertisements, web series, and cinema. I don't mind being part of any medium, as long as I can keep acting," she says.

Rakesh Maiya plays a man in his 30s with traditional values in the film. "I always enjoy fitting myself into a story, rather than taking the lead. I believe in taking forward with the content, Shubhamangala is one such subject, says the actor.

Shubhamangala also starring Siddharth Madyamikahas music scored by Judah Sandy, and cinematography by Rakesh.

Vijay Raghavendra, and Sonu Gowda team up for debutant Siddhruv's Marichi

The film will have Manohar Joshi handling the cinematography and Judah Sandy scoring the music

Vijay Raghavendra

CE FEATURES

SEEMS like Vijay Raghavendra has a penchant for thriller subjects. The actor who starred in Seetharam Benoy and the upcoming Case of Kondana will headline yet another psychological thriller titled Marichi. Siddhruv, who has previously associated with Kapata Nataka Sutradhari, will mark his directorial debut with Marichi, which features Vijay Raghavendra as an investigative officer. "Marichi is the name of lord Brahma's son, and he is considered as Godfather of good and bad, and my film will revolve around that concept," says Siddhruv, who is bankrolling the project under the SS Rec Productions banner.

The film also has Sonu Gowda playing the female lead, who is said to bring a twist to the story. She is teaming up with Vijay Raghavendra for the second time after Happy New Year. The makers plan to begin shooting in November and will have Manohar Joshi handling the cinematography and Judah Sandy scoring the music for the film.

The cast also includes Aryan, Spandana, and Gopalkrishna Deshpande.

Disney to adapt Arabian Nights as a Sci-Fi

CE FEATURES

DISNEY has decided to adapt One Thousand and One Nights, also known as Arabian Nights. Reportedly, Arash Amel is attached to pen the script for the upcoming film that will bring a new science fiction twist to the classic stories. Specific details of the upcoming project remain a mystery. The film will be a live-action original film that is not attached to any pre-existing films of the company.

With Disney adapting a set of classic stories in a science fiction setting, the upcoming film will be an interesting project to look forward to. More information about the film will likely be revealed as the project's development furthers. There is no official word on if the film will be a theatrical film or a Disney+ exclusive.

Disney previously adapted one of the many famous stories from One Thousand and One Nights with the release of Aladdin in 1992, starring Robin Williams as the voice of the Genie. It remains unknown which stories of One Thousand and One Nights will be adapted for the sci-fi spin.

Amel previously collaborated with Disney by writing the screenplay for the film Rise, which was released exclusively on Disney+ to positive reviews earlier this year.

With the film still in its early stages of development, no official release date for the untitled science fiction adaptation of One Thousand and One Nights has been set yet.

MADNESS IS MY CALM: RAKUL PREET SINGH

With already three releases this year and two more to go, the actor talks about why she prefers a hectic schedule, her college days and playing a medical student in Doctor G

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

RAKUL Preet Singh is quick to correct me when I call her a 'doctorniji', a prefix attached to female doctors in common parlance, especially in north India. She laughs shyly but adds, "A doctor is a doctor. There are no differences of gender and that's what we want to say through our film."

In the upcoming film Doctor G, the debut directorial of Anubhuti Kashyap, Ayushmaan Khurrana is seen in a fish out of bowl situation with the actor playing a medical student trying to sustain, hilariously, in the all-female gynaecology course. Rakul plays Dr. Fatima, the batch mate of Ayushmann's Uday Gupta. The trailer shows her as Uday's friend, lending an ear to his exasperations with the course and teaching him lessons on gender parity on the way. Such hero's journeys, it is often observed, have underwritten female leads. They merely act as catalysts in the protagonist's character development. Rakul, however, doesn't agree. "I think behind every successful man there is a woman and behind every successful woman there is a man. The people who act as catalysts in your journey are equally important." She describes her character as opinionated, sassy and fun, but also someone who takes her work seriously.

But the role is not the only thing that lured her to the film. "I loved the first narration. It is one of those films, whose script when I first heard, I was just waiting for it to start. The great part about Doctor G is that it is an enjoyable, funny film but it also gives you a message, without being preachy," the actor adds.

When it comes to streams, career choices or work in general there is still a sort of gender divide in India. Ayushmann's character Uday feels awkward while examining the female anatomy. His sense of false emasculation is wrapped in humour. "It is the societal conditioning which makes men feel that way. The top gynecologists of the country are male, even fashion designing is dominated by men. I think it should not matter what gender you belong to, as long as you are good at your job."

Even Rakul's choice of subject in undergrad was kind of a break from gender norms. She did a degree in mathematics, which is considered a strong suit for men, even when scientifically proven otherwise. "I was one of the few girls who liked math. I really enjoyed playing with numbers and had plans of pursuing an MBA in Finance or Brand Management but then modeling and films happened," she reminisces.

"Now I only use the numbers to count my calorie intake," she adds, with a little laugh.

In Doctor G's trailer, Rakul is ragging Ayushmann's Uday. When asked if any incidents of ragging happened in college, she is quick to say, "Just introductions and stuff, all in good taste." Any requests to sing or dance? "I was asked to dance once but it was harmless." When it comes to filmography, Rakul's is loaded. Since her debut in the Kannada film Gilli in 2009, the number of films she does in a year has only increased. Even in 2020 and 2021, when the country was going through the pandemic she had two releases, the Hindi film Shimla Mirchi, and Check, a Telugu release. She has already had three films this year: Attack, an action thriller with John Abraham; the aviation-legal-drama Runway 34 with Ajay Devgn, and the psychological mystery Cuttputli with Akshay Kumar. In addition to Doctor G, she is also awaiting the release of Thank God with Sidharth Malhotra and Ajay Devgn. "It gets hectic though, but I love hectic," she says enthusiastically. "Maybe because I come from an Army background (her father being an officer) and I didn't know any other way. Even when I was a kid, after school there were coaching for swimming, lawn tennis, badminton, skating, golf, you name it. Madness is my calm, I guess."

Doctor G also stars Shefali Shah and Sheeba Chaddha. It is slated to be released on October 14.

It is the societal conditioning which makes men feel that way. The top gynecologists of the country are male, even fashion designing is dominated by men. I think it should not matter what gender you belong to, as long as you are good at your job
